Help, I'm brand new to hackmud and this is all very confusing: "You can still help and be a part of this!"

- Run through marks, you will be ready when you can run sys.init.
- Get started with the PVE loop, player locs drop right where NPC locs do, and are guarded by the same types of locks
- Still too much? Stream yourself figuring it out! Chat in game, in discord, on Twitch and elsewhere

I'm only a T1 user, can I help too?

- Farming keys/snacks: start by asking veteran players where to start, or what scripts you can run to help farm/collect
- Do recon, share information with each other, collect info about Zez
- Attack Zez's locs (veterans can explain how this helps)

I've started T2 but I'm not sure I'm ready?

- Should already be familiar with finding/cracking NPCs.
- Farming unchanged - but there is a focus on upgrades (which ones depends on your style)
- For PvP, here's some pointers to what's different from PvE:
    - Players might bite back
    - Player locs don't "pop" - manual excavation required (see pvp upgrades)
    - Players can retire users if and when they want to
    - Lockstacks can change, but locks don't load or unload immediately (system rotation)
    - BINMAT 👀

I have read this doc and I still don't know what to do?

- Go into our hackmud official Discord server and say:
  "I want to pvp zez please help me" OR watch the shenanigans on Twitch, hang out in the discord voice channel, meme it up, or share this info with friends and tell them to tune in!

How do I set up my Twitch stream?

- Go to https://www.twitch.tv and sign up or log in
- Click your icon at the top right, find the Creator Dashboard
