

1. The RadiationQuery app collects anonymous usage data in order to improve the design and performance of the app. The data is collected using standard Google Analytics tools. This data is not shared with any other organization, and is stored safely on secure servers.
2. Beyond patterns of basic usage, the app does not collect any personal data.
3. We hope you find the app useful.