

Hey Eric

Are you open-minded

Everyone says yes but most of them don't know what it means

Being open-minded is accepting the mistakes they made and facing the harsh reality

You might be thinking what does this have to do with me

I want you to look at your business and analyze it from Top to Bottom and compare it to other successful business

You will see some differences right they have multiple well developed social media platforms

And two questions come in mind HOW and WHY

Posting content isn't good enough anymore you have to make it attractive, persuasive, exciting, entertaining, and so on

This is why I want to help your business because it has all the potential to be the best

So are you open-minded?

Best regards

Nahom

Hey Adam

I have seen a lot of Instagram reels of you proving people wrong about a specific topic with EVIDENCE and RESULTS

Well I'm here to prove you wrong about your business

You see every multi-millionaire or billionaire of this generation has a similar beginning

And that's leveraging social media

Take some of the wealthiest men in the world like Bill Gates, jeff bezos, and Mark Zuckerberg they all started building their brands and giving it identity more online rather than in the newspapers.

And why can't you do the same

If you think they got lucky or few friends pull some strings for them

I wish you the best in your future

But if you think I'm right and wanna take the next step to the new age

I will be waiting for your email response saying "Let's GO"

Best regards

Nahom

Hey Marcus

I wanted to do a follow-up email just tell you know you don't have to sacrifice your time and energy to get the results you want the same way you tell your viewers they don't have to give up on their favorite food to get in shape

I want you to ask yourself

On your business level, how do people lose weight?

They just don't work very hard and have a shitty diet or work on their diet and don't do exercises

They balance those too and with time they feel better and get results

It's The same in your business you have a very well-saturated Instagram account but not well focused youtube and Facebook accounts

Just apply this theory to every successful business you know and you will see that I'm not wrong

Hope you take my advice and looking forward to working with you

YOU HAVE THE PASSION AND ZEAL,
BUT YOU NEED SOMEONE TO SHOW YOU THE REAL DEAL

Best regards

Nahom
