Cease and Desist Sending Cease and Desist Letters

Dear Sir Guido of Pryor Cashman LLP, and Kanye West:

Having received your letter, titled 'Infringement of KANYE WEST Trade Mark and Other Violations' please find below our cease and desist letter which will explain in full, the reasons as to why your letter is null and void herein.

All Intellectual Property involved with Coinye Coin and Coinye Coin development team members is exclusive to them. 'Coinye' and related branding or imagery is entirely separate and unrelated to your client.

Mr West has pending applications, this does not mean that they are as yet confirmed and approved, and are therefore both unwarranted and unenforceable as such.

Current approved applications make no reference nor do they state anything to do with Cryptography, cryptocurrency or electronic money and are therefore entirely separate to your client.

Subsequently, our promotional materials, interviews, branding and imagery in no way state that we are in any way officially affiliated in any capacity with your client, nor do we wish to be as we feel it could be damaging for our goals and risk our credibility as developers.

Upon receipt of your letter, we kindly changed our imagery so not to confuse the general public with your clients image as we appreciate that there may have been a point of contention.

We have now removed any and all references to your client which we feel could mislead someone in to believing that there is in any way a link between the two.

As you can tell from our new community-submitted, updated materials, we make no visual or verbal reference to Kanye West but to a half-man-half-fish hybrid who is wearing sunglasses, again, totally separate from any resemblance to your client.

The issue of whether or not the Domain Name <http://coinyewest.com> violates federal trademark law by using an Internet domain name that is similar to Kanye West Corporation's service mark. The Internet is an international "super-network" connecting millions of individual computer networks and computers. The Internet is not a single entity. It is a highly diffuse and complex system over which no entity has authority or control. See generally American Civil Liberties Union of Georgia v. Reno, 929 F.Supp. 824, 830-45 (E.D.Pa.1996), aff'd, 117 S.Ct. 2329, 138 L.Ed.2d 874 (1997). See New Kids on the Block v. New America Pub., Inc., 971 F.2d 302, 307 (9th Cir.1992) (noting that laws against infringement do not apply to "non-trademark use of a mark"); Lucasfilm, Ltd. v. High Frontier, 622 F.Supp. 931, 933 (D.D.C.1985) (holding that property rights in a trademark do not extend to the use of the trademark to express ideas unconnected with the sale or offer for sale of goods or services). <http://coinyefaucet.com> domain name is not a "commercial use" within the meaning of the Federal Trademark Dilution Act.

Please stop harassing our pools, faucets, and exchanges.

I do not see that there is a likelihood of confusion between the Trademark set forth by your client Kanye West and those being presented by under the Meme Crypto Currency Coinye Coins ("The Gay Fish"). The official site states, and has always stated, that we are not affiliated with Kanye West. (See the FAQ section.) These sites are used to provide people with Coinye Coins so that they may purchase "Fish Sticks For Their Mouth"

Warm Regards
