

Price impact is the effect a trade has on the market price of an asset.

It is important as it measures how much a transaction will change the prevailing prices in the market in which the trade occurs leading to a more informed decision