

Miora Privacy Policy

Updated on: January 12, 2026

This Privacy Policy governs the data collection, use, storage and protection practices of Miora Plant Growth Tracker (hereinafter referred to as "the App"), a plant growth recording tool. By using the App, you acknowledge and agree to the terms and conditions set forth in this Policy. We are committed to safeguarding the security and confidentiality of your data, and adhering to the principle of minimal data collection to protect your legitimate rights and interests.

1. Data Collection and Usage Scope

The App only collects the unique device identifier (such as device ID) of your mobile device. This data is solely used for login verification purposes to ensure the security and uniqueness of your account access. We do not collect any personal information about you, including but not limited to your name, contact information, address, email, or any other data that can identify you personally. You are not required to fill in any personal data when using the App. The unique device identifier will not be used for any purposes other than login verification, and will not be shared, transferred or disclosed to any third party for commercial, analytical or other non-verification purposes.

2. Data Storage and Security Protection

All collected unique device identifiers are stored in an encrypted manner using advanced AES-256 encryption algorithm. We have implemented strict technical and management security measures to protect the stored data, including setting up exclusive access control permissions, restricting access to authorized personnel only, and establishing a complete data security audit mechanism. Regular security scans and vulnerability assessments are conducted to prevent data leakage, loss, tampering or unauthorized access. When you initiate the account cancellation process, we will immediately trigger the data deletion procedure for the unique device identifier associated with your account. The deletion process will be completed thoroughly, and no copies of the device identifier will be retained in any form in our server or backup system.

3. Prohibited Behaviors

When using the App, you shall not upload, post, transmit or store any content that violates relevant laws and regulations, public order and good customs, including but not limited to pornographic, violent, bloody, terrorist, hateful, defamatory, slanderous content, or any content that infringes upon the legitimate rights and interests of others. We adopt a zero-tolerance attitude towards any violation of the above provisions. Once such non-compliant content is detected, it will be deleted immediately. Your account may be suspended, and we will complete the handling of the violation within 24 hours. You shall bear all legal responsibilities arising from your violation of these provisions.

4. Contact Us

If you have any questions, suggestions or complaints regarding this Privacy Policy or the App's data processing practices, please contact us via email: Miora@gmail.com. We will reply to you and handle your related requests in a timely manner.
