To Manager/ HR Team:

Subject: The Funding Letter corporate reimbursement letter

This is to request reimbursement for your employee's subscription to The Funding Letter. The Funding Letter is a lead generation membership that helps sellers generate new opportunities and deals for your company via funding announcements, which are a top signal that drives deal cycles and new purchases.

For only $35/year or $3.49/month, our Members receive our exclusive daily and weekly newsletters, proprietary datasets, AI Analyst Platform, and hundreds of dollars in free discounts and credits on effective sales tools, helping your sellers close deals quicker and work more efficiently.

The Funding Letter is currently being used by top sellers at companies like Gong, Rippling, Ramp, Google, LinkedIn, Snowflake, Databricks, Github, and more.

Many companies offer The Funding Letter reimbursements as part of employee professional development benefits. Your employee should attach their membership invoice along with this letter.

You can reach out to us at team@fundingletter.com if you have questions or if you'd like to partner with us more broadly.
