Dear Parent/Guardian,

This letter is to inform you of your child's progress in reading.

Your child's current reading level is Level Y.

M= Student has mastered the skill within the current reading level

N= Student needs support with this skill in order to move to the next level

- ___ Using word-solving strategies, prior knowledge, pictures/graphics, text content, and reader's tools (glossaries, dictionaries, etc.) to solve words, including technical words
- ___ Following complex plots, such as flashbacks
- ___ Making connections between the concerns of today and those presented in books and developing ideas about those issues
- ___ Remembering details in summary over chapters in order to understand larger themes and revise ideas about the story or characters as new events occur
- ___ Identify the meaning of symbols that the writer uses
- ___ Develop opinions about characters by studying how the author describes them, what they do, what they say and think, how they change, and what other characters say about them
- ___ Identifying the message of a text and discuss how it applies to everyday life
- ___ Actively asking questions of the text and searching for answers while reading
- ___ Identifying the changing perspective as events in a story unfold
- ___ Changing predictions as new information is learned in a story and actively confirming or disconfirming their thinking
- ___ Understanding the different ways of reading according to the genre of a book
- ___ Identifying the different meanings of a story
- ___ Stopping to think about the text to jot ideas about the story/characters and then continue reading at normal speed

Let's work together to ensure the academic success of your child.

Sincerely,

Your Child's Teacher
