Please do more of those videos about approaching women via texting

Avatar:

Ron, 28, needs to improve how he messages women he just met online... Ron keeps getting ghosted and the women don't reply back all the time.

Ron wants to finally get things going and get a meet-up rate atleast where he can meet up with women online.

Ron is working a freelance coaching job where he coaches fitness to people. So, he travels from house to house everyday but has time for messaging online for sure. Plus, he does not work for any corporation so he can control his time.

Current State:

Ron is currently frustrated that women won't message him back and he keeps getting ghosted by women online. Ron feels that he will never be successful with women and he knows he's 20's is coming to and end and sooner or later he will get old. He wants to enjoy women young and therefore is seeking to get better with women immediately so that he can make make good memories in his young days.

Dream State:

Ron is finally happy that he is no longer being ghosted by women and is finally meeting up with them. Whether or not it leads to a short-term fling or long-term commitment, he has finally stopped being ghosted and women are taking more interest in him. Ron is currently getting good reply rates and he is finally having luck on this matter. Meeting up with women face-to-face has become something familiar and he's going to get his fun with women.

Roadblock:

Ron treats his text game like a business interview... Ron needs to add more fun and humor because this is suppose to be a different vibe and energy compared to work.

He is talking like a shy geek where he bombards her with all this weird logic when she asks questions herself too? Imagine Peter Parker saying stuff to his girlfriend(geek superhero). This is his problem. Maybe, he watches too much spider-man LOL...

Solution:

He is given a specific program on how to stop talking like a geek and going on interview mode and becoming more playful and fun. This specific program makes his texting game better where gives a better impression of not being boring and having an interesting life that will amaze women with fun and excitement.

Purpose Of Copy:

The purpose of this copy is to resonate with shy, geeky men on his email list. His way of writing can intrigue a lot of people who are extroverted by nature and outgoing. But, I feel that he can write to impact this kind of specific target market and help introverts get better with women as well.

Hi Ron,

Frustrated that you're being left seen by women despite careful planning?

You gather your thoughts before each reply but to no avail, they abandon you, which makes rejection familiar.

The cycle doesn't even seem to end as you try on another female and 10-15 minutes of effort go to waste and you feel hopeless about your lonely situation.

Worse, all your scientific research about the psychology of women doesn't seem to help and HOURS are now wasted.

You feel trapped and it seems that you are destined for a future of BORING WORK without the luxury of fun relationships. Your inner child gets lost as you grow up.

Avoid such tragedy, with this specific method that will make women wonder "Who the hell is this man messaging me these exciting thoughts?" 😊

Stop going into "interview mode"(BORING) and start applying this procedure that makes things fun x10 through the link below:
