

GCRTA Grant-in-Aid Recipients

2022

Mackenzie Grubbs - Newbury High School – Cedarville University – Early Childhood Education

Caleigh Hamby - Newbury High School – Capital University – Early Childhood Education

2021

No applicants

2020

COVID – no awards given

2019

Julia Lombardo – Newbury High School – University of Mount Union – Early Childhood Education with 4th and 5th grade endorsement

Abigail Roessler – Chardon High School – Cedarville University – Middle School Education with concentrations in Math and Science

Matthew Utz – Cardinal High School – Kent State University – Middle Childhood Education

2018

Marissa Burwell – West Geauga High School – Cleveland State University – Special Education

Lilly Makee – West Geauga High School – John Carroll University – Early Childhood Education with

Spanish Language Minor

Michelle Meleski – Home-schooled – Lake Erie College – Early Childhood Education

Rachel Sauder – Kenston High School – Ohio Northern University – Biology and Secondary Education

2017

Kelsey Adams – Cardinal High School – Edinboro University – Early Childhood/Special Education

Tori Hines – Chardon High School – Kent State University – Middle Childhood Education with concentrations in Language Arts and Social Studies

Jamie Weber – Newbury High School – Western Governors University – Interdisciplinary Studies/Elementary Education