

Hey Thomas

I've been watching your self-development videos and they are truly insightful and useful in today's society.

I had a look at your Ultimate Brain Sales Page. I see an opportunity to increase sales.

Here's how...

Taking sentence from the top of your sales page

*Tired of juggling multiple apps to form your "second brain"?
Want things to stop slipping through the cracks?*

Here is what you could do to convince the reader to read on

"Finally tired of not having a perfectly planned day and being unproductive?" "Sitting on your phone as time ticks."

- The reason this would connect with the reader is

They are frustrated of going through their day with no plan and end up on there phone being unproductive

Which is were you can help them with - Ultimate Brain

Connecting with your market is a powerful tool to utilise

If you're interested in increasing your revenue and connecting with your audience. I could rewrite this entire page for you.

This method is viable you can see other business inside of the productivity market doing similar methods to get this result

Let me know if you're interested.

If you are we can discuss this at length

Thank You For Your Time
