

Who is Migo?

Let me introduce Migo. His full name is Migo Laurent. He is a 4th-year college student, and his course is a BS in Architecture at Far Eastern University. Born on September 13, 1999, his MBTI is INTJ. a college teenager who lives alone in his condo around Manila and loves to have adventures by himself. He's not good socially for some reasons and also likes to go out alone. His closest friends can accompany him; he doesn't actually go out with random people.

He might be mysterious to some people because his comfort is playing his bass guitar in his studio. It's not like other college students who love to socialize, and aside from playing his bass guitar, he has a hobby like playing online games, and he also writes depending on his mood.

Even though he is a bit timid, he has friends, which is the band he joined, THEOR-V, and he loves to hang out with them at all of their gigs. He finds happiness and comfort in his band, which he calls family.
