Immersive Teaching Bites Submission TEMPLATE

This session type involves an immersive micro activity for participants. This is an activity that your learners undertake ('learners' are defined relevant to particular context). Participants play with, see, do, or experience your Teaching Bite in an open 'expo' style of event. As such, they wander around the room, choosing things to try out. It might be an innovative learning object, micro activity or demonstration, interactive digital poster (e.g. QR codes), something in your online environment, or a 'meet my discipline' showcase. All Bites will be spread around a large room for participants to mingle and choose. Presenters must be present to organise, explain, discuss, or facilitate as relevant.

Successful immersive bites have a clear engagement element or hands on activity.
