

Introduction to The Spirit Files (Part 2)

Unveiling the Dangerous Behaviour of Twitter User GhostBlood666 (SpiritRoseT) (MoonlightRose43)

Good morning/afternoon/evening, everyone. I am MistressOfTheHaze666 and as promised, I decided to write the second part of the Spirit Files to again expose the alarming and harmful actions of an Australian individual who operates under the Twitter aliases GhostBlood666, SpiritRoseT (a now defunct burner account) and MoonlightRose43 (her new account) after it was made known to me that she came back onto Twitter just to drag me for exposing her.

Let me make myself crystal clear, I am rightfully exposing her for all her bullshit because she had the gall to use the 'suicide' card (twice, mind you) to make my friends and I stop calling her out only for her to drag my name constantly just because I exposed her for what she was. Whatever document she's gonna release is absolute bullshit and won't have any evidence whatsoever which is typical behavior to expect from a delusional freak who's obsessed with Jutty to Hell and back. I have people who are gonna sit and call out all her fabricated lies piece by piece, so please stay tuned. I will not allow Spirit to discredit myself and those who came forward and I refuse to let her silence us. Let's dive into this shit.

TRIGGER WARNING!!!

This document mentions topics of obsessive parasocial behaviour, the Jutty Taylor accusations, suicidal thoughts, harassment, and inappropriate behaviour in the presence of minors amongst other things. If you are uncomfortable with such topics, I kindly ask that you leave. If you have any questions, please direct message me on either TikTok or Twitter. (My TikTok page will be provided in the conclusion of this document.)

I do host live sessions on TikTok so if you want to ask me questions there, you are free to do so. I am going to rightfully drag her through the mud for whatever shit she's gonna spew about myself and the other people who came forward.

Chapter 1: Daisy

I'm not sure how to start this. I'm 13 years old and in 8th grade. I told Spirit my age, and I find it strange that she kept messaging me after that. It's unusual for an adult to contact a minor, but anyway.

About a day into our conversation, she asked for my Instagram, and we started messaging there. She talked about Jutty in a way that made me uncomfortable. I didn't want to tell her to stop because I felt sorry for her; she clearly has a lot of problems. I did ask her to stop discussing NSFW topics, and she did for a little while.

The next day, we were chatting about random things. When I said I needed to take a shower, I was gone for about 15 minutes. When I came back, she asked me if I knew what degloving was. I said no. Then she sent me a photo of someone's skin peeling off of their body. Later, I was bored, so I asked her to say something crazy, and she said she wanted to be in bed with Jutty doing very sexual things. After that, things were mostly normal, except for her saying terrible things about Grace. I eventually decided to block her.

I've been struggling with suicide and self-harm. I told one person about it, but she didn't believe me. Spirit, if you read this, I wish you no harm; I just want you to get the help you need.

(If you want to see the screenshots mentioned, look at @lovabledefensive's profile on X. She has a whole thread on this stuff.)

Chapter 2: Jane

I have come to deeply regret ever meeting Spirit. At first, I thought she was normal. Just another fan venting about the Jutty Accusations but I was proven wrong and she continues to cause me grief after cutting her off. She has stalked my TikTok account since blocking her. I was forced to watch as she continued to pray on minors, sexualize Mr Taylor to them. Send them gore. I would get so stressed at just the mention of her name, and because of her, my anxiety, stomach, and even heart issues came back with a vengeance. Have you ever felt your heart pulse in your throat at the mere mention of a name? Because thats what Spirit does to me. I had hoped she would try bettering herself. But she continues to lie and this all came to a head the moment she said she wanted to falsely accuse GronkusGroove of rape.

Spirit, I hope you know that in Australia, if you are found guilty of false rape accusations, under section 314 of the Crimes Act 1900, you will be investigated and when you are found guilty. You can be sentenced to the maximum sentence of 7 years of imprisonment. For the stalking and harassment of DragTalk, 2 to 5 years depending on the severity. This is only scratching the surface.

Chapter 3: Surge

I'd like to give more relevant or important information either of the two, to inform people and to be careful.

I started talking to her (Spirit) in November, at first we only talked about the Jutty controversy, giving our points of view on the situation. Until things started to escalate, where she shared with me that she was talking to Neil and Jutty's brother. At first I didn't find it a problem, I thought I was somewhat lucky.

After exchanging a few messages for X, she gave me her Instagram, talking to her only from time to time and everything was always the same topic: Justin and how he talked and maintained a friendship/closeness with his brother, and then, it happens that she made explicit comments about Jutty with me. At first they were mild and it didn't make me uncomfortable, until one day she told me something like "oh, I want him naked" and that made me quite uncomfortable.

She also told me to be insistent about Justin with DragTalk, his brother and Neil.

It's a bit hypocritical of her to say that she was being "used" and she was just contacting them to ask about Taylor.

I would also like to say that she recently told me that she sent a suicide note to DragTalk because of everything that was happening to her. And to comment that when she saw that Justin's brother was no longer responding to her messages, "he had abandoned her" and created another account to ask about Jutty.

That's all, I would like to remain anonymous since this person is obviously in bad shape because of what is happening in her reality, in addition to being quite possessive and obsessive.

Yea

And I know where he lives but that was ON ACCIDENT

I didn't even wanna know that info and I was worried about him

And you know what I did when I found out?

I tried everything to tell him or get the message to him so he can fix it so no bad people would find our

Like it's not like I purposely looked it up and went , "hehehe now I can stalk him"

NO

I was minding my own business when I came across it and I was so so worried for him

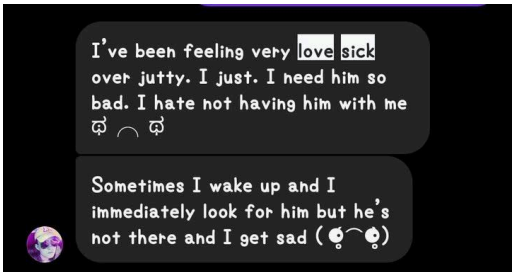

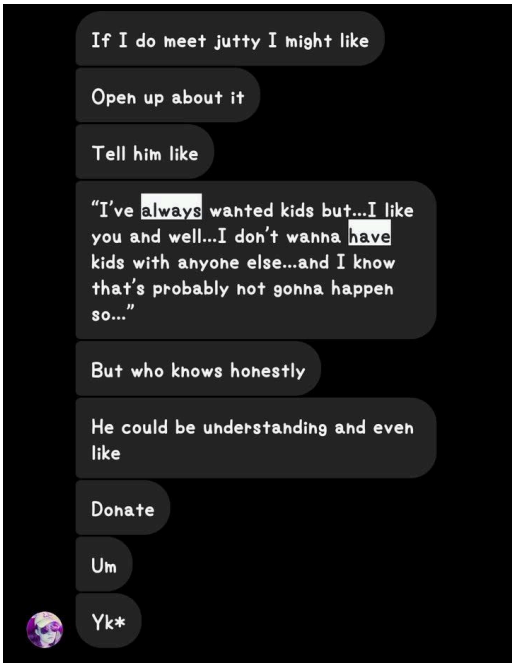

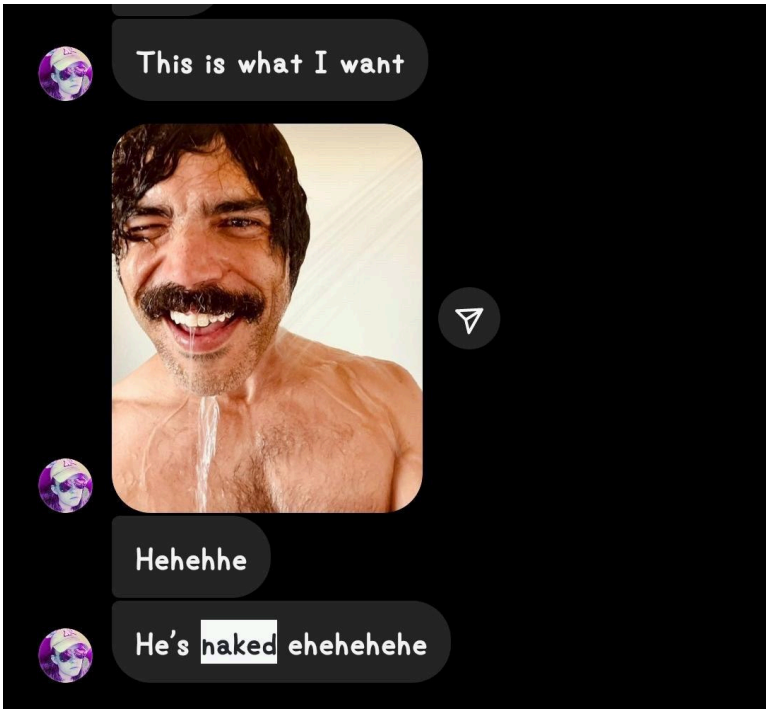

And I didn't want to make a big fuss if it was a joke and not real so I looked it up on Google maps to see and yep! It was!

I immediately messaged dragtalk and even tagged juttu in a story TRYING to tell them because I was genuinely worried for his safety

Like a stalker would purposely find that info and use it to hurt someone

I never did that

I actually was worried

i thought maybe they didn't mean it...but I was wrong...cause I just found out it was just a way to give me false hope!...and yea... i am killing myself...just slowly by starving myself...so you and the others can throw a big party saying you won! Cause i'm done...you're all monsters...and you won...so you can stop cause you won...i already sent drag talk my suicide note to them so....good job on you.,you and the others are officially going to be responsible for someones death."

Thats what i said to them

Maybe i should just become a criminal

That what they clearly all what

I don't think it's true 🥲

Theyll be sorry if i ever find them

They all will be

Chapter 4: Haze (Myself)

Let me cut to the chase of why I wrote the second part of this lovely little document. I've had enough of Spirit's ass traumatizing people with the shit she does just because she's obsessed with a man who doesn't even know she exists. Girl has the audacity to come after my friends and myself for calling her out because she can't handle the truth. Well let me tell y'all something.

I'm not scared of her or her bullshit. I'm pissed off that she's coming after people I care about because her ego got bruised. I already told you my damn story in the first document so please refer back to it if you want to know my side, but let it be known that I'm not gonna back down because she's all mad.

And for the record, let me inform you all that Drag Talk has been informed of Spirit's behavior thanks to multiple complaints which I can only assume are from all of you beautiful people. Thank you for your help in letting people know what's going on with this psycho. Let me also make it clear that she suggested that she'd make fake screenshots to accuse Grace of rape, so let that sink in.

Anyways, I'm closing this document off. If you wish to come forward at any given time, please dm me with screenshots and evidence as well as your testimony. Everyone deserves to be heard and everyone deserves to get help after dealing with shit like this. You have all my love, support and strength throughout this whole situation and I hope you have a beautiful 2025. Goodbye for now!