

Student Faculty Solidarity — UAW Local 7902

To add your name, please click this link.

December 2022

We, the undersigned, who have appeared at, been promoted by, or might otherwise become professionally involved with the New School as writers, artists, scholars, and activists, have noted with distress the administration's betrayal of the university's progressive values and its embrace of a corporate logic with regard to higher education. We believe that the strike called by the part-time faculty of the New School, who constitute 87 percent of its teaching staff and who have been joined in the strike by many full-time faculty and students, is an expression of the precarity faced by them in the absence of a fair contract. The concerns over wages, healthcare, and rights against discrimination and harassment voiced by those on strike contrast sharply with the corporate salaries of the upper administration of the University and its retaining of an expensive law firm to negotiate with union representatives. Until this issue is resolved in solidarity with the faculty and in accordance with the University's historically progressive values, we refuse to appear at events at the New School, including but not limited to talks, screenings, concerts, exhibitions, critiques, runways, performances, and seminars.
