SL: What almost every business fails to realize about ads

Hey there again Marcus

Have you ever wondered why some businesses show up everywhere on your feed, and why their ads get so much engagement?

Most people think it's just purely how much they spend, but after spending a million dollars on ads we can confidently say that's not it

It's about how they invest their resources

Most business will just keep throwing money on the same ads and the same formats that everybody have already taken

However, what smart businesses are doing is investing in knowledge

To first of learn the underlying concepts of advertisements

And then they use those concepts to find new formats and choose between the good and bad ads

We have spent a million dollars to find these brand-new already-proven formats

And the best thing about them is that they don't even feel like ads!

So if you want to stop wasting your money and learn advertising like a smart business

SL: This is why you're making no money from your business

Hey, there Marcus!

This guy asked me why he was making no money from his business and I told him very simply

"You're marketing sucks"

He was immediately surprised by my statement

"How could you say that he said"

And I told him that I have a solution because I've spent over a million dollars to figure out how to market

And that I could very simply teach him, but I didn't want to do that because millions of people want to get this information from

But he was diligent and he asked me for a pdf

I Handed him this book and I never heard from him again

Until yesterday

He sent me an email explaining how he was able to take his marketing to the next level By using my simple already proven Facebook ads strategies.

He was making sales left and right, and earning more than enough for me to call him a certified success and therefore he sent me 100$

because it was so good he told me that was less then 1% of what he took home that month

So I asked how he outperformed every other course student than mine

And he said that due to the simplicity of the methods and formats, even he was able to start generating engagement and sales through his ads

He had burned out on ads a long time ago but there was a simple line in the book that enlightened his outlook on everything about advertising for him...
