

TREE course on "Thinking about Thinking"

course on "Thinking about Thinking" will commence on November 12th. This course will focus on the following:

- What does it mean to think, and how do we create classroom cultures that encourage deep critical and creative thinking?
- The Art of Questioning and Facilitation: What makes a good question? How can teachers facilitate highly interactive discussions? And how can we get our students to ask good questions?
- An Introduction to Thinking Routines: Developed by Harvard's Project Zero, Thinking Routines are easy ways for teachers to scaffold deep thinking in the classroom. In this course, teachers will get to practice designing and facilitating thinking routines.

As always, the course will include a rigorous reading component and a final project. Readings include extracts from Ron Ritchhart's books, as well as extracts from Warren Berger's A More Beautiful Question.

Dates for the course are:

November 12, 14, 19, 21st (evening 5 to 7p.m.)

November 30th (morning 9 to 1)

Cost: Rs.7500/participant

Venue: TREE Learning Center
24 Bishop Garden, R.A.Puram

We have limited seats available, so please do register your teachers soon if you are interested. If you would like to register teachers, please contact Irene at Irene@treelearning.co.in

Best,
Maya Thiagarajan
Education Director - TREE