

Mr Baker's English Homework

My Mr Man Story 23rd September 11 by _____

Mr _____

LO: To plan for and draft a build up section to a Mr Man story in the style of Roger Hargreaves.

Remember that you must take time to plan. If you do not, then you will not know what to write, you will end up making it up as you go and the writing will seem aimless and not at the level you need to be.

Planning requires brief notes - perhaps bullet points - that serve to remind you of what should happen and the order in which they occur. You should not use full sentences until writing your draft.

[illegible]

Now ask someone at home to read this to see if they understand what you have written.
