GRAMMAR – Indefinite Pronouns Rewrite the Sentence

Read each of the following sentences, and then change the indefinite pronoun for the one that best fits the statement (someone, anyone, nobody, everyone).

NOTE: You are changing the indefinite pronoun completely, not just the ending.

1. Did somebody call me?

Did someone call me? ✖

Did anybody / anyone call me? ✔

2. The office is empty. Why is everybody in the office?

3. I need anybody to go to the party with me tonight.

4. Somebody was at the meeting today. You were the only employee who didn't show up.

5. She needs nobody with a car to drop her off at the airport tonight.

6. Hurry! Anybody is waiting for us at the park.

7. I didn't share my recipe with everyone.

8. Anybody knows about passion for designing websites. It's a secret.

9. Nobody who can speak two languages fluently is bilingual.
