nodejs/node

- * domain: error handler runs outside of its domain
#26211
 - * Matteo: on agenda because semver major on domains which changes behaviour to make them more ergonomic, but we have deprecate domains.
 - * If there are no objections will go ahead and land.
 - * Will require TSC approval to get into 12.x
 - * Gireesh, if error handler is in parent is recovery possible? Matteo, not sure best if Gireesh comments in the issue.
- * src: do not reuse HTTPParser #25094
 - * Looks like we can remove this from the agenda, as was added to get more TSC reviews and additional reviews have been received.

nodejs/TSC

- * TSC Elections Chair and CPC representative 689
 - * Matteo no reason to open call for representatives today? No objections let do it.
- * Tracking issue for updating TSC on Board Meetings
#476
 - * No Myles so no update this week.
- * Strategic Initiatives - Tracking Issue #423
 - * N-API, working on AsyncWorker to address some issues raised, workshop for Node.js conferences this year, and general issues
 - * OpenSSL evolution, doc capturing our plan landed. Unfortunately looks like FIPs Support will only come in OpenSSL 3.x (which is API but not ABI compatible) so we will likely have a gap between when 8.X goes EOL and there is a version of Node.js with OpenSSL 3.x
 - * Core promise APIs - some discussions around support async iterators for transport streams (ex readable streams). If people want to try to help its #27140 and Matteo is available to mentor.
 - * Python 3 and Gyp, have updated with latest release gyp3, working to get python 3 installed on rest of build machines.
 - * 2 new ones, startup performance the build resources.

Q&A, Other

* No questions this week.
