Guest 628

did the camera go out of focus or is it just my computer?

Angela Johnson

mine is working ok

Beth Holland

Sometimes, if you go to settings and change the quality, it gets better. Could be your bandwidth.

Sara Campbell

Hello! Sara Campbell from New Jersey!

Beth Holland

Hi Sara. Welcome! Beth here from EdTechTeacher.

Linda Bernard

Hi! Linda from Long Island NY

Angela Johnson

What were they using before the ipads?

Beth Holland

Angela, in Carl's district?

Carl Hooker

We had about 4000 devices (desktops mostly with some laptops)

Beth Holland

Nevermind, thanks, Carl!

Carl Hooker

For 8000 students and 800 or so staff

Carl Hooker

We did BYOD prior to getting the funds for our 1:1

Angela Johnson

ok

Angela Johnson

thanks for the info

Dale Van Keuren

Techy question for Carl....are you a self managed district or does IT manage the iPads?

Carl Hooker

Yes :)

Carl Hooker

to both...

Carl Hooker

Actually our students 6-12 use their own Apple ID's and we manage apps through Casper

Carl Hooker

A lot of that is changing (for the better) with new Apple protocols.

Dale Van Keuren

Cool, thanks. We do the same. Just looking for other districts that allow for the same freedoms that we give our students.

Carl Hooker

We have some restrictions at the MS level, but HS is pretty open.

Dale Van Keuren

We actually let 2-12 manage with a personal Apple ID. Just looking for Casper to catch up on some things.

Carl Hooker

we are pushing that down to K-5 as well...right now we are using Apple Configurator which is awful

Carl Hooker

just very slow for management of apps...

LKavande

What kind of PD is offered to your faculty to integrate technology in their classroom?

Angela Johnson

How to make the choice between an ipad and a pc?

Dale Van Keuren

Google Apps was an easy win for us before our students had iPads.

Guest 756

Anyone know how to spell "Samur"? Carl just mentioned it and I'd like to get some more info on it.

Justin Reich

SAMR

Beth Holland

SAMR Model by Dr. Ruben Puentedura - <http://www.hippasus.com/rpweblog/>

Guest 756

Ah, thank you!

Beth Holland

Carl did a great post on this as well -
<http://hookedoninnovation.com/2013/12/10/taking-a-dip-in-the-samr-swimming-pool/>

Dale Van Keuren

Carl....would love to see the outline of your parents course!

Beth Holland

Lorena, at EdTechTeacher, we work with a number of schools and districts to provide iPad PD. What we have found is really important is to have a focus on pedagogy vs technology. It also takes time - more than a day or an afternoon.

Guest 703

It is an acronym for how to use and implement a variety of technology...

Beth Holland

Carl and Patrick did a great webinar about "Preparing Parents" last August - <http://connectedlearning.tv/preparing-parents-mobile-learning>

Linda Bernard

Carl, would rally love to see the iTunes course material!

Carl Hooker

I'm going to make it public soon....(that's my cliffhanger...)

Beth Holland

Great podcast on SAMR recently with Richard Wells from New Zealand that also may be of interest - <http://linkis.com/j.mp/yCWFa>

Carl Hooker

Hi Linda!

LKavande

Thank you Beth-

Linda Bernard

How long do you think it took before teachers and students were using them to redefine learning

Angela Johnson

Very smart and great idea letting the teachers play first!

Michael Podraza

Thanks for all the awesome resources Beth

Linda Bernard

Hey Carl :)

Sabba N. Quidwai

do you have an evaluation system in place for teachers to measure growth, or do you require that teachers participate in x amount of sessions?

Beth Holland

Linda, I think "redefinition" is part of the larger process. It may occur in some places, or in support of some tasks, but it could happen throughout the process of integrating technology.

Nathaniel Vaughn

Hello from Blake Middle School in Medfield, MA!

Beth Holland

Hi Nat! There you are :)

Linda Bernard

How important are SmartBoards in the EdTech mix now for you guys?

Sabba N. Quidwai

evaluation might be the wrong word, more like some way to measure growth. feel like evaluation has a reallyyyy negative connotation associated with it in schools

Beth Holland

Linda, what's the role of the tech? I've seen then used wonderfully because of thoughtful integration and design of learning spaces as well as horribly - quite literally as a coat rack!

Grace Toler

what was that hashtag?

Carl Hooker

I will say the "change" really starts to happen after about 18months (with variation)

Carl Hooker

We chat on the #eaneschat hashtag every Thursday night at 8:30 CDT

Grace Toler

Thanks!

Carl Hooker

Linda - Smartboards are used still heavily in the Elementary, but now the learning is in their hands....not just on the wall. :)

Beth Holland

Another great chat is #1to1techat on Wednesday nights at 9:00 EST/ 8:00 CST

Gino Leonio

hello everyone

Linda Bernard

Trying to decide if we upgrade our SmartBoards to the multitouch or go with something more like Tv screens in group areas.

Beth Holland

For a great use of SMARTBoards, take a look at Suzy Brooks -
<http://blogs.falmouth.k12.ma.us/simplysuzy/technically-invisible/interacting-with-the-whiteboard/>

Nathaniel Vaughn

The Epson interactive whiteboards have been great for students and screencasting in conjunction with Apple TV in our iPad classrooms.

Michael Podraza

Hey Nat. Need to chat soon outside of social media

Beth Holland

Of course, her pedagogy could be applied to just about anything. I'm a big fan of using anything attached to a projector as a learning center - especially in elementary/middle school classrooms.

Carl Hooker

We just upgraded A/V last year...I seen flatscreens becoming the future though...

Nathaniel Vaughn

You bet, Michael - would to connect.

Michael Podraza

I've got your email. Connect soon. Would love to hear about your year

Nathaniel Vaughn

Sounds good - got to make it happen.

Beth Holland

Carl has a great Scoop.It page on Brain Research & Screentime - <http://www.scoop.it/t/brain-research-technology-usage-with-kids>

LKavande

Has your school improve student learning since you implemented one on one program?

Linda Bernard

Love this article about how tech affects kids <http://www.balefirelabs.com/apps/?p=26148>

Grace Toler

Just got word I'm getting 6 iPads for my K class. So excited and wanting to really change my teaching! Just not sure where to begin!

Carl Hooker

Congrats Grace! Exciting time ahead...Tom is hitting a major point here. Don't just focus on the apps...use it to create. Even with K!

Carl Hooker

PS - My oldest will be in K next year. :)

Stephanie Sims

yes, create rather than just consume content

Grace Toler

Carl do you have any names I could connect with?

Beth Holland

Grace, take a look at what Matt Gomez - <http://mattbgomez.com/blog/>, Meghan Zigmond - zigzaggingedtech.blogspot.com, Karen Lirenman - <http://learningandsharingwithmsl.blogspot.com>, and Kristen Wideen - <http://mrswideen.com>

Nathaniel Vaughn

Here's a post from Justin that references the AAP's media policy statement - great to share with parents

Nathaniel Vaughn

Sorry - here it is...

Nathaniel Vaughn

http://blogs.edweek.org/edweek/edtechresearcher/2013/10/pediatricians_release_new_media_policy_statement.html

Beth Holland

Here's the article that Tom references about 5 Critical Mistakes -
<http://www.edudemic.com/5-critical-mistakes-schools-ipads-and-correct-them/>

Linda Bernard

We unblocked all social media - talked to parents about how we have structured its use seeing the classroom as a "padded room" or safe place for them to learn slowly with boundaries and guidance ...

Beth Holland

Grace, if you can, I'm teaching an iPad workshop in Atlanta in June that may also help - edtechteacher.org/summer/atlanta I taught K-8 before joining EdTechTeacher and will be focusing on elem grades.

Grace Toler

Is it at ISTE?

Linda Bernard

Grace, these courses are awesome and a great place to start! I learnt a lot last summer on these!

Michael Podraza

Here is a list I curated when getting started w/1:1

<http://eghsprincipalri.blogspot.com/2013/03/updated-11-resources-and-references.html>

Angela Johnson

is it at the isummit?

Carl Hooker

<http://thetechrabbi.wordpress.com/2014/02/10/the-invisible-ipad/>

Beth Holland

No, we have hands-on workshops in 6 cities this summer. I'll be in Atlanta with Shawn McCusker for a week. Woodward Academy is hosting us June 9-13. The full schedule is at edtechteacher.org/summer These are small, hands-on sessions for 2 or 3 days.

Grace Toler

I will surely check it out - thank you!

Nathaniel Vaughn

Beth - will this chat be archived as well?

Angela Johnson

Beth, thanks for this info. I will share it with my coworkers tomorrow

Beth Holland

Of course! :)

Beth Holland

We archive everything!

LKavande

The showcase was interesting. Students integrated technology to showcase the outcome of a unit. Diverse use of integration of apps and technology well done. At NE1:1 Burlington Public Schools last Saturday.

Nathaniel Vaughn

Thanks, Beth - great links/articles to share with staff and students as we look ahead to 6th-8th for next year.

Beth Holland

Here's a post that Patrick wrote about the student showcase -
<http://www.patrickmlarkin.com/2014/04/students-steal-show-at-ne1to1.html>

Beth Holland

Nat, feel free to search my Diigo library, too - <http://diigo.com/user/brholland> I have a whole tag for middle school.

Nathaniel Vaughn

Of course you do! :)

Beth Holland

Joy Kirr (@JoyKirr) is doing amazing things with middle school students. She's a great resource as well.

LKavande

The best part of the showcase was having the opportunity to talk to the students directly and having them explain the process to get to their final project. Thank you Beth for Patrick's post link.

Sabba N. Quidwai

that is a brilliant response Justin.

Gino Leonio

A great way to introduce your students to computer programming technology:

<http://www.tynker.com/school> ...

Carl Hooker

<http://www.scoop.it/t/ipad-research> Articles curated on test scores, learning, etc in K-12 with iPads

Linda Bernard

The problem is, if they aren't getting higher scores... But they are more engaged. Also testing methods need to match the new learning style.

Gino Leonio

there's self-paced courses with built-in tutoring

Gino Leonio

tynker.com

Grace Toler

I am wanting to have digital portfolios at K - any resources?

Beth Holland

Shawn McCusker did a great post on "the device debate"

<http://blogs.kqed.org/mindshift/2014/01/macbook-chromebook-ipads-moving-beyond-platforms/>

Dale Van Keuren

iPads changes the conversation, Laptops/Chromebooks extend the current conversation.

Linda Bernard

Grace, we use Ebackpack, which is great.

Beth Holland

Hi Grace, Holly Clark did a great post - <http://edtechteacher.org/blog/?p=2295>

Beth Holland

I'm a huge fan of Kidblog or Evernote for elementary students.

Sara Campbell

What are your thoughts on Chromebooks in elementary schools?

Beth Holland

Sara, I've seen them used really well! Check out what they are doing at Pine Glen - <http://pineglen.info>

LKavande

Thank you for this great learning opportunity Tom, Justin, Carl and Patrick. Thank you Beth for the great resources.

Beth Holland

I think it comes down to what do you want your students to do and how are your teachers prepared to create the learning environment.

Grace Toler

Thank you friends for sharing!

Carl Hooker

You are welcome~

Nathaniel Vaughn

Wonderful resources - thank you all!

Sabba N. Quidwai

managing multiple tools is a really important skill, shouldn't limit yourself to one device. although we started off 1:1 with iPads, we just started a chromebook class for our academic research/writing course for all freshman. i feel devices change so quickly and do different things, being flexible is important to change with times

Sarah Vaughn

Great conversation and applicable points! Thank you all!

LKavande

I look forward to a next time- my best to you.

Carl Hooker

We've looked at some Chromebooks too...and laptops...

Beth Holland

Sabba, that's interesting! I do love the Google Research tools & new Add-Ons.

Linda Bernard

Me too! Thanks guys :)

Carl Hooker

Stay tuned for the publishing of my iTunesU Digital Parenting course!

Sabba N. Quidwai

yeah Beth I love how the writing process comes to life with the Google tools, and i think its important to know which tool works best for what you want to do

Beth Holland

I also wrote this post on iPads & Chromebooks if it helps - <http://www.edudemic.com/ipad-or-chromebook-4-questions-to-ask-before-choosing/>

Sabba N. Quidwai

oh nice thanks will check it out

Teresa Thomassen

Thanks for all of the info!

Linda Bernard

Carl, I think your iTunes course is a great idea and am looking forward to seeing it.

Beth Holland

Tom is talking about our upcoming events. We have TONS of workshops this summer - <http://edtechteacher.org/summer> - as well as the ETT Summit in Chicago in July - ettsummit.org

Danielle Milazzo

This was a great webinar! Very informative! Thank you! :)

Excellent webinar! Thanks for all the resources and rich conversation.

Sabba N. Quidwai

Beth Holland

Justin wrote this great post a few years ago - http://blogs.edweek.org/edweek/edtechresearcher/2012/11/if_you_meet_an_ipad_on_the_way_s_mash_it.html

Angela Johnson

Thanks for all the info. Great webinar!!!
