Joyfully Managed Life
WITH JESSICA EASTMAN STEWART

Hi, I'm Jess! I have a newsletter community of over 11,000 great folks. I share 5 tips every Friday for living a more joyful and easy life. You can join the free email newsletter list at www.jessicaeastmanstewart.com/newsletter.

We've crowdsourced some Girl Scout cookie links from our community to help ensure we support these Scouts and get our cookie fill! Enjoy.

Tip from Jess: Know someone going through a hard time or challenging life moment (illness, loss of someone close, new baby, etc.)? Send them cookies! Know someone celebrating a life moment (new job, new baby, college acceptance, etc.)? Send them cookies!

Zora is a very active Girl Scout and wants to be an interior designer.	https://digitalcookie.girlscouts.org/scout/zora56657
Amelia is a Cadette; this is only her second year selling cookies. We've set her goal for this year slightly higher than what she sold last year, but she has great ambitions (not just in cookie-selling, but in life in general) and personally wants to double what she sold last year. She loves being a Girl Scout and has found that it is one area of her life where her ADHD not only doesn't hold her back, but can actually help her.	https://digitalcookie.girlscouts.org/scout/amelia938449
Eliza is a Brownie in Washington, DC, selling cookies for the second year (and hoping to beat last year's sales!). Her favorite parts of Girl Scouts are the outdoor and science badges and she'd love your help raising money to support her troop's adventures!	https://www.gsdigitalcookie.com/cookie/Landing/3/4476a21b-0be4-4237-8255-efbd2ce9966a/en-US
Daniela is in her first year selling cookies, and she's excited to practice a lot of math while she works on her cookie sales. The money she earns will help us invest in our brand-new troop and support our community.	https://digitalcookie.girlscouts.org/scout/daniella469168.
