

TAKE ACTION

Your task is to answer the following question: What happens when one branch of the government oversteps its power?

Your action plan needs to include the following components:

- Formats can include Canva, Prezi, Google Slides, poster, etc.
- Information about the topic- Answer all of the following statements below
- Photos/visuals

1. Overview (SS 3.2)

- An overview of how the three branches of government have control over each other.
- The roles, perspectives, values/beliefs, and interests of the branches.
- What challenges do the branches face in keeping each branch in check?
- What has been put into place to limit the power of the three branches?

2. Proposal (SS 3.3)

- How is the government enabling or creating power issues between the three branches? (Hint: If one branch of government enacts a bill/law/order but then the other branches don't necessarily follow that action, how could that create issues?)
- How do the different branches respond to the overstep of governmental power by other branches?
- Ideas/plans the government has put into place to keep the branches of government in check, and the impact of these ideas/plans.

3. Reflection (SS 3.4)

- Any insights or lessons that you have learned from your investigation?
- What questions do you still have about the three branches of government having control over each other?

4. Resources (SS 3.1)

- List any resources that viewers can access to support your activism, gain more knowledge about your issue, or reach out for help from others.
- What organizations/platforms are promoting positive and fair governmental action?
