Dear [mention the name of your sister],

Do you know that I love you the most? I love you so very much that you can never imagine it. You have been always my only best friend. Your presence always filled my life with happiness. You are always a sweetheart.

You were such a darling that you tolerated all my tantrums. Even if the whole world stands against me, I know that you will be the only one to stand for my support.

When I look back to our childhood, I wonder how we became so best of friends. We were those siblings who never left any opportunity to fight. You were always aware of all the mischiefs I did but never let those come before our parents. You always had been the protective one.

And after all these, over the years, you were the one who had taught me how to have patience. You also told me how to be ethical. You are one of the most sorted people I have ever met.

Wish we were together, like in our childhood days. We could have re-lived those golden days. Do you remember how it was so much fun and daring once we [mention an incident that you and your sister were both parts of]?

Had it not been for you, I would not be the one I am today. Your love and guidance have always been my strength.

Wishing you a very Happy Life

Your loving [brother/sister]
