Comparing the Layers of the Atmosphere

Introduction:

- The atmosphere consists of many different layers that each have unique characteristics. Other things in day to day life also consist of layers that have unique characteristics, like beds, burritos, and sandwiches.

Your task:

- Draw a picture to compare the layers of Earth's atmosphere to something else that has layers.
For example, you could draw a cheeseburger and write "The lettuce on the cheeseburger is like the Mesosphere, because they are both the coldest layers."

Be sure to include:

- Labels of each layer that you are comparing.
- Explanation of each layer. Why is that layer of the atmosphere similar to the layer you have drawn?
