General infos

- Prices are in Euros (EUR)
- Paypal or direct transfer only
- Once the payment is confirmed, the client will receive a rough sketch. Once the sketch is approved, I will proceed to work on the picture. WIPs will be sent occasionally, but the client can request one as well.
- Updates will happen via email.
- Big edits must be mentioned during the sketching phase, unless they're things that I missed in the initial mail.
- Refunds after the sketching phase are 50%, no refunds after the sketch has been confirmed unless I personally stop the project, in which case you will get a full refund.
- Commercial commissions are available; please send me an email with the project details so we can discuss it.

What do I need?

- Any relevant references you possess. (note: established characters/design only, I no longer accept design commissions!)
- A comprehensive, clear and (if possible) short description of what you want.
- The commission type you want (see category below)
- Your Paypal information

TOS

- Commissioned works may not be used in any commercial product without permission. Clients may not profit from the commissioned work, including through the selling of digital files, prints, other merchandise or rights to the image without written permission.
- Clients retain rights to their respective characters.
- Clients may resize or crop the image for use as personal prints or digital format (icons, banners, wallpapers etc.) for any non-commercial use, the image must not be altered otherwise.
- Clients may post image on their personal gallery as long as proper credit is given.
- If the commission isn't started after a month after it's payment date due to a change in my schedule, client can ask to be fully refunded.
