Section 6: About Us

Work With A Dedicated Editor And Book Coach

Kristin Melville believes a great story makes for a great book. She helps authors fine-tune their work, allowing their writing to come alive on the page.

Kristin has always loved Fantasy and Young Adult fiction. That's why she chose to pursue a degree in creative writing. As a student and aspiring writer herself, she knows the important elements of crafting a good story and what it truly takes to build a better book.

Kristin has lent her skills to help edit a faculty literary magazine. She also completed an internship at a fantasy-based publishing house. These accomplishments and experiences help her guide and encourage other writers.

She knows how to spark the creative process to help authors get moving. With Kristin's professional editing and coaching, writers will find their manuscripts transformed and ready to present to indie publishers.
