

Austrian Economics, Libertarianism, and Academic Writing in the Humanities

A bibliography of books and articles that may be of interest to libertarian and classical liberal humanists (last updated September 5, 2024)

I am grateful to the friends and colleagues who helped me compose this list. If you have additions or edits, please email me at jac3@columbia.edu (providing full references as well as links if online versions are available). Foreign language publications are listed separately at the bottom. I'm especially interested in including critical studies of literature and film that use Austrian economics and/or libertarian philosophy. Thank you!
