

"If your actions create a legacy that inspires others to dream more, learn more, do more and become more, then, you are an excellent leader." – Dolly Parton

Happy Friday!

Now that we are finishing our final progress monitoring assessments, it is time to analyze the data, regroup students for small groups, and refine your learning targets. Thankfully, you have Monday without students to develop your strategic plan to ensure all your students are ready for the EOY assessments in May.

All PA Assessment 3 data should be entered on the MasteryConnect platform before you leave work today.

Updates, Reminders, and Instructional Supports...

(Teacher Evaluation Standard III: Teachers Know the Content They Teach, Teacher Evaluation Standard IV: Teachers Facilitate Learning for Their Students, & Standard V: Teachers Reflect on Their Practice)

TEACHER WORKDAY: There isn't a big list of TO DO's, but there are some VERY important tasks to complete to ensure you meet the end of year professional and instructional goals!! Here are some ways you should spend your time Monday:

- Classroom environment - Study change over from Insects to Reduce, Reuse, Recycle (Remember it's OK to keep some evidence of the Insect study in your room, especially since we are still observing the butterfly metamorphosis process and students are still very interested in this topic.)
- Data Driven Instruction (DDI) - Dive into the data and create a long-range small group instructional plan - Brigance & PA data
- Lesson planning:
 - Continue to include gross and fine motor learning targets in your weekly lesson plans (identify students who need specific skills practice - Brigance data)
 - Include instructional transitions that meet learning targets (identify students who need specific skills practice - Brigance & PA data)
 - Include individual plans for students who need intensive instruction (2-3 days a week during Choice Time) and supplemental instruction (1-2 days a week during Choice Time) - Brigance & PA data
- Certified teachers - update your Evaluation portfolio in preparation for your final visits
- Update Marco Polo playlist
- Update Ready Rosie playlist
- Locate the RRR Guided Edition (It is a photocopy book and not the one that came with the Creative Curriculum kit.)
- Locate The Four Money Bears book. If you can't find it, you need to ask your Site Director to order you another copy.
- Review the fidelity checklist and prepare your questions for our PLC fidelity discussion on April 1
- Create instructional resources to use for whole group, small group, and/or for individualized instruction that support your students' learning targets.

APRIL PLC: Our focus this month is on the fidelity to the Creative Curriculum through teacher-student interactions. Come ready to review and participate in the discussion as we prepare for the April fidelity visits. I look forward to meeting with you at the William R. Davie Conference Center from 3:00-4:15.

READ CHARLOTTE DATA COLLECTING: Ms. Moss will continue her visits to the classrooms in our Cohort this week. When/if I get her schedule I will update the news on our SharePoint cohort page. Just know that her schedule is flexible and will depend on the time it takes to administer the assessment at each site.

*Now on to my schedule...
I plan on following this visit schedule but will adjust as needs arise.*
