

Why is it good to learn another language and how can it help you understand more about the world?

Connection with more people. If you can speak more languages you have more friends and also you can make more money such as if you have a youtube channel and you speak the language that everyone understands such as English you can make more money because everyone understands you.

Also, you can use it to survive in an emergency situation such as if you go to another America and you are running away from a criminal and you find the police. If you can't speak English you don't know how to explain to the police and you might die.

The better work. Have you ever needed to do hard work and you don't know what word you will use to end the story? If you have ever been like that before it's because you don't know enough words so when you use it sometimes it doesn't feel professional. So you need to learn more words so when you speak, read and write you will be 100 percent better and people that watch your work might be shocked.

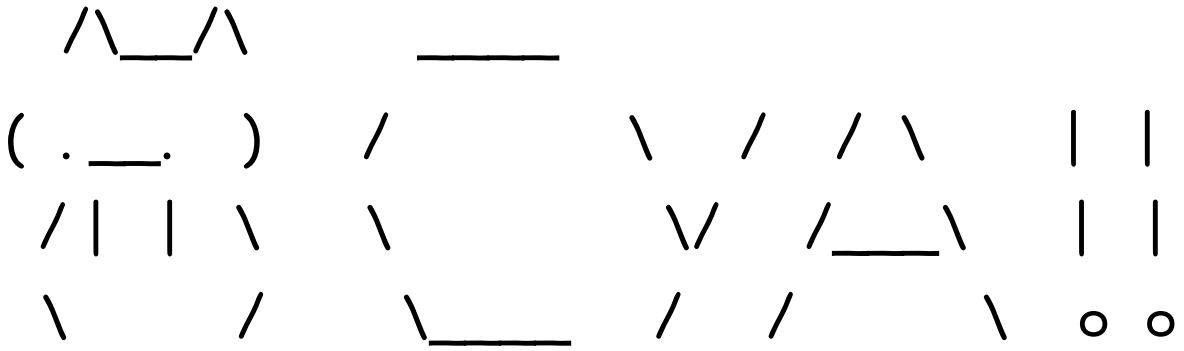

Learning with the speed of flash. I know when you are learning you might be wondering how does your friends so good at language such as they knows ever meaning of ever word and they can translate everything like google that's because of the power of learning you can do it just give more time with learning languages.

Making reading and watching more fun. I know sometimes when you are having fun with something you might be bored because you don't understand it. But will it be better if we can understand it and have fun with it? You just need to read more books and in which world you don't understand you note it then when you are done reading search the word you don't understand then translate it and write it in that book then read it again you will enjoy it !!!

It's The End Bye Guys !!!

Hope you guys enjoy it >:)

Phrase you can use:

My name is Iris. I'm twelve years old. I'm having the best summer of my life because my parents took me to the Amazon forest with my little brother, Jack.

"We're going to camp in Amazon for a week and it's going to be so great", I told Jack.

"Yes, we can pick berries and play with cute animals", Jack replied happily.

We got packed and left the house. Our parents drove the car and after two hours, we finally reached our camping spot. Jack was a little disappointed when he learned that there is no internet but otherwise he was happy.

At about 6 pm, our dad told us to collect some wood for the fire. I replied, "Sure dad! It won't take long." Then Jack and I ran to collect some wood when the trees got thicker.

Jack said, "Sis, what's that animal?"

I looked where he was pointing, and to my surprise, I saw a gleaming silver lynx. "It seems to be made out of gas," I told Jack. We were very curious so we decided to follow the lynx. It led us to a tree and vaporised into nothing.

"I think the tree's glowing," I told Jack.

But he simply shook his head and said, "It looks normal to me."

"Look at that branch, it's literally glowing silver!"

To my surprise, he said, "It's not glowing. You're pulling my leg."

(to try to persuade someone to believe something that is not true, as a joke)

My curiosity overpowered my fear, and I touched the tree. A silver door appeared! Mesmerised by its magic, I touched the lock and it pulled me inside. The last thing I saw was Jack screaming my name, then my vision turned black.

When I woke up I was on a bed. A girl was sitting on my bedside doing some magic on my wounds while a baby deer was sleeping peacefully on her lap.

She asked, "Are you feeling any better?"

I replied, "Yes, thank you very much, but who are you?"

She smiled warmly and said, "My name is Artemis, goddess of the moon and the wild."

I was so shocked, but I continued, "What was that silver door? And why did Jack not see it?"

Artemis smiled warmly and said, "Boys are not allowed on my island."

I decided it was best to introduce myself, "Hi, I'm Iris."

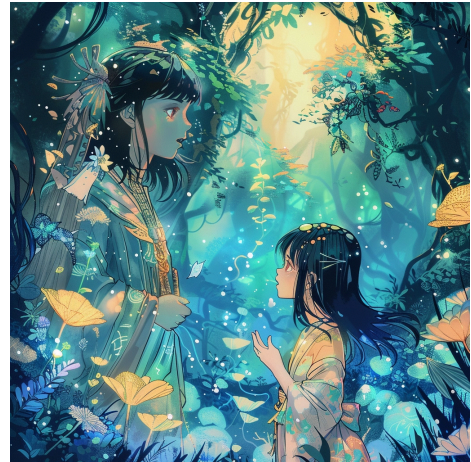

Artemis smiled and said, "Your name is like my best friend the rainbow goddess, Iris" "Would you like a tour, Iris?" she added.

I replied "Yes, thank you so much, but when can I return to my world?"

She smiled and said, "You can either return to your world or stay with me immortal, on this island. It is very rare for a girl to come across this island Iris, but first let me take you on a tour."

Artemis's island was breathtakingly beautiful, most of the island are forests but there are some marble temples. She introduced me to some Nymphs, Centaurs (half human half horse), Satyrs (half goat half human) and storm spirits.

Artemis explained, "On this island there are both kind animals and dangerous monsters from the Underworld, so you will need a weapon." She took me to a shelf and gave me a bow and some arrows. The bow fitted me perfectly.

"Thank you, goddess Artemis. Your island is really amazing."

Suddenly, there was a roar in the forest, then a chimaera attacked me. Artemis shouted, "Shoot it! It's dangerous!" I jumped on the chimaera's back and aimed an arrow at its neck. It roared angrily and tried to scratch my neck. I quickly shot my arrow, and with my luck, it vapourised into nothing.

Artemis complimented me on shooting the chimaera and said sternly, "Iris, that's one of the monsters that had caused a lot of damage on my island. Since you're pretty good, will you accept to be a hunter and help me get rid of monsters?" I happily replied, "Yes, I will help you with the monsters and I won't let you down." Artemis smiled.

That evening, I helped her prepare dinner and we ate together as friends. Artemis was a nice goddess and I really enjoyed talking with her. Then suddenly, I remembered that Jack was out there in the forest, alone. I begged Artemis to keep him safe.

23+30/4/2024 Task: Continue the story. Write what happens next.

Suddenly when I look again Artemis is gone now I am alone but suddenly I see something on the Artemis chair. It's a small paper. I picked it up and looked inside and the text inside made me shocked because the monster I just killed is the goddess of that forest. and Artemis is..... " Qeseken" The goddess of death that will kill everything !!!

Now i'm very scared because i just tell Qeseken that Jack is in the forest " Alone " now I need to go out of this place first i ran for 30 mins already but I can't find the " Exit " way Ever time when I'm running i feel like I am running at the " same " place."Wait, what's that noise ?!" While I'm walking I heard something. Then when I look back

A big black body is behind me. one of its hands has a sickle. Yes I found him Qeseken...and in one of the trees around there I saw my family but they are dead !!

Now I'm very scared. I tried to run but I couldn't even move!

Then I woke up "Wait, I just fell asleep?"

Because of that dream It makes me feel very scared and bad that I left Jack alone.

But when I can stay calm I get up and i Found a "Key" that I don't even know what this key could do but I keep it because I think in the future it could be useful.

Suddenly My fire of hope blaze up because I Found Diamond door far from me about five hundred meters I see it because the Diamond has a light on it I'm very happy to get out of here "only fifty meters to get out of here" But then i repeat myself again "Wait when i get in it's i silver door.."

Now my hope is gone. I ran as fastest as I can to get out of that place then BOOM!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

The door explodes. I feel very good that I didn't run into that Diamond door because if I go there..

KABOOM!!! I might already be a coco crunch

Because I'm very tired running all day i decided to get some rest below the tree

ZZZZ

When I woke up i see that now is very late night so I continue walking and finally I found the silver door but it needs a key I almost punch the door with anger but I remember I have the key I'm very Excited that i would get out I take out the key and almost finish Qeseken hit me at the leg so I dropped my key Qeseken almost take up the key so I hit him at the back and then use his sickle to End his life.

Then i open the door with the keys then get out of that place I found Jack and he asked me where did I go I'm very confused why Jack asked me like that so I asked him how long I have been gone his answer maked me shock

5 mins why?

I was shocked for a moment because I feel like I have been in there for about 2-3 days .

I decided to keep this as a secret.

THAT HAPPENS TO ME FOR ABOUT 15 YEARS AGO

Now I'm Iris and I'm 27 years old.

THE END
