

This week, our word is "at". Since we have looked at both letters previously, we are asking the children to focus on rhyming with words from the "at" family.

Also, see how many "at" words you can find in your daily reading.

Here's our poem for the week:

How to Make a Friend

By: Jane Heitman Healy

You start by saying Hi there,
Hello, Aloha, Ciao-
If someone answers back at you,
Smile and nod and bow.

You might try saying Hola,
Salut, Goddag, Shalom.
If someone answers back at you,
They might be far from home.

A friend begins by greeting,
Those they meet along the way
To make them feel welcome
At home, at school, at play.

Sk:

Write a sentence using the word "at". Remember to use an uppercase letter at the beginning and a period at the end. Draw a picture to go with your sentence.

JK:

Practice printing the letters Aa, Tt. Remember that "t" is a tall letter and goes to the top of the line.

JK and Sk Reading Challenge:

Try and read a book every day this week (Monday-Friday). Pick your favourite book from the week and draw your favourite part of the story. Don't forget to send us your pictures!

This week we will continue to work on rhyming words. Please complete the sheet below with "at" words.

Math:

Maker Monday:

Create a survey about ice cream flavours. Ask everyone in your family which is their favourite. When you are done, draw a picture of which flavour was liked the most. You can use tally marks or names when you are collecting the data. Some flavours that you might need help writing are: Chocolate, strawberry, vanilla, bubble gum, mint chocolate chip.

Tricky Tuesday:

Use your body to make the numbers 0-9. Have fun with it!

Weather Wednesday:

Check what the temperature is today. Write down today's date (May 13th) and the temperature on the paper that you have been recording the weather on. Is the weather today warmer or colder than last week? Draw a picture of today's weather using lots of colours and details. It would be so cool to be picked as the CTV News Weather Watcher! Send your picture to ottawaphotos@ctv.ca . Your picture needs to have your name, age and the name of your school.

Thinking Thursday:

Draw a picture using only triangles, circles, rectangles and squares. Count how many of each shape you used in your picture.

Fun Friday:

Draw a picture and hide the numbers 1-7 in it. Ask someone in your family to find all the hidden numbers.

Art:

As we wait for the warmer weather to come, the kids are invited to create bugs out of toilet paper rolls to give the room a Spring feel. If you have empty toilet paper rolls or paper towel rolls, have your child paint or colour them and turn them into adorable creatures!

French:

This week, we are going to learn about animals.

- Here are some animal names, in French: Les Animaux with Video. Don't forget to print the game and have fun playing it at home!
- Here is an online game to help you practice: <https://www.samamuse.ca/jeux/bullesdamour.html>. Click on the first theme: animaux. Your child should be able to recognise the words "j'aime" (I like) and "je n'aime pas" (I don't like). In this game, he/she needs to find the image that best describes the words. For example, "je n'aime pas les chats" would be represented by the broken heart with the picture of the cats.
- Listen to the book Brown Bear, Brown Bear, What do you see? (In French: Ours brun, dis-moi) by Bill Martin and Eric Carle. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4C_nBszH_no
