

Rules for the University Student's Essay Contest

1. The theme of the contest:

- Which strategies Tanzania needs to implement to be positioned as a global oil and gas hub?
- What the role of Local Content is in ensuring Tanzanians benefit from the oil and gas sector in a win-win situation?
- How can Tanzania use its oil and gas resources to successfully diversify the national economy?

2. The essay should have no more than 1500 words 3. The essay should include:

- a. Introduction: Indication of the main topics for the essay
 - b. Development of concepts: Argument development and bibliography
 - c. Conclusion: final ideas and essay wrap up
4. The essays should be sent, together with proof of university enrolment, to Tiago Marques, to the email tmarques@thecwcgroup.com, no later than 18th October 2018.

5. The essays which comply with the contest rules will be evaluated by the jury committee:

- 1. CWC Group
- 2. PetroFiorentini
- 6. The winner and the two runner ups of the contest will be announced on the 21st October

2018 through CWC Group's webpage.

7. Award: The author of the winning essay will have the opportunity to be participating at the Tanzania Oil & Gas Congress and will also receive a scholarship to attend the 3 full days of Gas & LNG Contracts course, taking place 12 – 14 November, in Maputo, Mozambique.

Requirements for Participation:

1. The participation at the contest is only allowed for university students enrolled in the in a Tanzanian University.
2. The essay should be elaborated individually and the only way to participate in the contest is with an essay that complies with the contest rules.
3. The contest does not apply to students enrolled in the first year of university
4. The essays should be presented in a Word Doc, Arial Font, size 12 with double space.
5. The winner will be chosen by the merit and quality of the essay through a jury committee from CWC Group and PietroFiorentini.
6. If the winner cannot attend the Summit, we will invite the second runner up to attend on his behalf, and so on.
7. The prize cannot be changed or given in money or kind.
8. Employees from CWC Group, PietroFiorentini, and their families will not be able to participate in the contest.