Welcome to Gnod's World of Music

Gnod is a self-adapting system that learns about the outer world by asking its visitors what they like and what they don't like. In this instance of Gnod all is about music. Gnod is kind of a search engine for music you don't know about. It will ask you what music you like and then think about what you might like too. When I set Gnod online its database was completely empty. Now it contains thousands of bands and quite some knowledge about who likes what. And Gnod learns more every day. Enjoy :o)

Bands in this document include Kid Rock Ted Nugent Korn, Before They Sold Out Insane Clown Posse (pages 1,4,6) Slipknot Eminem (pages 1,4) Genesis The Beatles and Additional Links

Just put in a band you think teenagers would have opinions on in 2003 Also, there is so much posting in a few of the threads, I certainly have missed stuff.

Kid Rock

Kid Rock is just another sell-out artist. It's ashame too. He used to be my favourite singer. But as soon as "Cocky" came out, that all changed. Devil Without A Cause was the best album at the time, and is still one of my favourites, but now most of his stuff is soft and pop-ish. I only hope that his next album goes back to what he used to be because that was the real Kid Rock. :(

>>By J Dub (Friday, 13 Dec 2002 21:10)

See, these people talk about Kid Rock sayin the he sucks and he souled out and that he's nuttin but a soft guy, if you listen to the CD Devil without a Cause, he's basically sayin that yeah they might think he's soft till he comes out a opens a can of whoop-ass on ya

i strongly recommend you do not buy the new craveman cd it is the worst thing ted nugent has ever recorded and that includes all amboy duke stuff,he states it is his most intense stuff ever but one listen and you will be on your way to trade it for anything else,1995 spirit of the wild was good for then but now in 2002 this is dispicable for a pro ..

ted nugent really sucks. my 86 year old grandma rocks harder than that pussy.

I am a devoted Nuge fan dating back to 1976 when I first saw him.
Indescribable.....He has persevered the music industry for 47 years and is still rockin' like most only wish they could!
Would like to hear from any of you that are with me.....and have Nuge music....I have lots of boots and other music from the Motor City Madman.

Korn, Before They Sold Out its kinda funny how NOBODY on this planet can give one single reason as to why they think KoRn sold out. I think its because everyone knows they DID NOT sell out. you people dont know what it means to sellout. LIMP BIZKIT-thats a perfect example of a sellout band. Korn has grown and developed their sound and become even better than they were when they first started. I am growing very tired of hearing the emphasis on their first album and their second one at that-yes they are fantastic albums-BUT ALL THEIR ALBUMS ARE-i dont see how korn just suddenly stopped making good music (in the minds of you people)....the newer stuff is almost BETTER because of how melodic the songs are and how incredible Jonathan Davis' voice has been developed into...but whatever...since you all have the iq of a vegetable i guess there is no rational explanation as to why you think they sold out.

>>By Tommy Bazzano (Saturday, 22 Feb 2003 19:55)

They didn't sell out motherfuckers, all their albums are phatty phat bitch ass jack offs, I think you former koRn fans are sell outs, because I Aewangster_Kocko is the loyalist Korn fan in the planet. The reason you asswhipes think that is because, in every album Korn changes their style of everything, I seem to like their change dudes and dudets. Their new album don't suck, hey they won a freaking grammy for peeks sake..... I hate you guys..... freaking former koRn fans sellouts.....Korn rules! Go Kings!

>>By Aewang Saetern (Friday, 11 Apr 2003 17:18)

I agree with you Aewang, Korn's music is more powerful now then it was in 1994, And I think the members of korn did an excellent job with writing the music to UNTOUCHABLES. Their riffs on the fifth album are both heavy and melodic which enabled Jonathan to prove to his fans and the sellout fans that he has a melodic voice and that he doesn't have to scream. I happen to love the way he screams and lets all of his pain out, but the melodic riffs and his melodic voice and putting those too together it's a beautiful thing. KORN will be around for a long time and I'll be supporting them unitl they can't play no more. But I hope they never stop.

Mike Harvey

>>By Mike (Sunday, 27 Apr 2003 23:49)

Dude, I have been a Korn fan for 9 years when they played local in San Diego, and their music is starting to suck. These cheesy songs Jonathan does like Hollow life are just bad. His voice on Untouchables sounds bad. His raspy scream turned into a nasty gurgle like yell. And writed about something new, Chino said it best the guy is 30 years old. There are good songs on all the albums but the good ones on the new albums are the ones that sound like the first two albums. Selling out is by definition changing your music or appearance for cash. Didn't they take half a million to wear puma's and dump adidas? Jon will never change his lyrics because painful childhood lyrics is what sold in the past and still sells today. But hey can you blame them? If you were offered half a million to promote puma would you turn that down? Think about where they grew up and what they came from. You gotta be stupid to pass up the money. I think they have just ran out of ideas and they are limited on talent. Except for maybe Head and David, they are not putting forth their best efforts like the early days. Head can play guitar a lot better than what is on Korn albums.

Insane Clown Posse

I'm sure ICP is glad to see so many juggahoes pissed, they always knew this was coming. They knew some fuckers wouldn't accept this god shit. They don't give a fuck. The carnival will carry on. ICP gave hundreds of thousands of real juggaloes a way to gather together and rock. They aren't gonna dis one of their fans just cause they beleive in god or satan or buddha or whatever the fuck. All juggaloes are family, and every fuckin one of us is different. Weird, freaky, stupid, insane, or twiztid. The whole world needs to quit bitchin and fuckin calm down, you shoulda known they'd say some shit to twist your nuts eventually. Chug a faygo and shut the fuck up, you know you'll be at the next show.

http://www.gnoosic.com/discussion/insane+clown+posse__4.html
Hello:

I am a former fan who hates his sister so much because of her degrading ghetto ways associated with ICP.

See I was a fan of this group when they first came out, sure it's ok when you are in your teens, but once you are an adult, it is time to grow up and refine your tastes.

I can understand people liking the music and such, but I cannot see devoting my life and surroundings to these guys from Detroit.

My friends and just listened to it for kicks, not this Cult like stuff some people take it to, my sister has degraded her body with faggety ICP tatoos, her room looks like shit with all the crappy Twiztid and ICP merchandise.

She has wasted all of her money on this, and expects other people to help her out with getting a car and taking care of her kids, or hanging out with her ghettoriffic friends.

African Americans hate it when Caucasian People try to act like them, I don't blame them one bit.

ICP has been dropped by record companies for a reason, if you aren't mainstream or really popular, you are wanted in the real world, ICP and Twiztid started their joke of a record company because no one wants them.

See they are only around because the fans want to be rebels and supposed bad asses, ICP is a corporate made up rap band just like eminem.

It's ok if you like it for fun, but if you take it seriously like it is a lifestyle, then you need to see a shrink and get some help.

Faygo, now here is some piss tasting soda, it is cheap, and ICP probably bathes in it, also they aren't straight, sorry Juggalette's but this is true, try downloading some fan's home movies off the net, and you will see, the stuff is legit.

But if you are in your mid to late 20's and you are still a huge fan, well you are pathetic and need to get a life.

>>By eyeh8icp (Sunday, 10 Aug 2003 03:41)

Now that was some badass talk. Let me ask you: Who the hell are you to tell people, what they should like and what they should do? If your sister likes ICP and likes to spend her money on ICP merchandise, let her do it. She is livin' her own life and you should live yours. Like myself, i wouldn't give a shit where my sisters spend their money, or what kinda music they like. You don't understand ICP's fans? Well, what the fuck is it to you in the first place? I don't understand people like you, who are stuckin' their noses in every single thing, even if they wouldn't have nothin' to do with the damn thing! It's true that ICP didn't got any record deals when they where known as Inner City Posse, but after they changed their name and started their own record company, they started to gain fans from the underground. Now they are cult heroes for so many people and there ain't nothin' no one can do about it.

I know many people, who are late 20's and still listen ICP, but they also listen music from every style. From classical to heavy metal. From rap to pop.

And one more thing: I don't take this ICP Juggalo thing so seriously. It isn't my lifestyle. But if some people out there are paintin' their facese and takin' ICP tattoos, then go ahead. It's no one elses business.

http://www.gnoosic.com/discussion/insane+clown+posse__6.html

First of all Hell's Pit is the shit, ICP has shown me the light. i have turned from the wicked troubled side to the straight up family guy. crazy how how shit turns out. il tell you guys a little story. i wasnt down with the clowns since day one. sorry. icp wasnt around in '89 or '90. Like they said they were a local band underground that wasnt able to get the voice out. it took 4 fucking joker cards to finely get to me. the cazy fucking thing was i didnt know what i had found. check it. i was about 16 back in '98, i was snoopin around in my brothers room looking for something to eat, take, or destroy. I noticed that my brother had left his cds there in his room. i started going threw all of them No Dought, Snoop Dog, Master P, Death Row, then i noticed this one cd that didnt have any fucking thing on it but at guys face with a bunch of stars and a big fucking feather on a big fucking hat. with a wand in one hand an a cracked out bird on the other. So i put it in his cd play to see what it was. on the disk it was all black and said some wiered ass name of the great milenko. as the cd was playin right off the bat i started to feel this wierd feeling as if i knew who this was. at the time i didnt know what was going on but i couldnt stop listening to it. i started looking threw the cover and what not. some crazy ass clowns on them with a wicked knife and a staff with a skull on it. i also started to notice that on the other side of the cover it had the title The Great Milenko. i read the lil scrip just like the opening of the cd crazy. on the piramid i noticed that there was some other letters that were missing maybe saying that there were other covers that i needed. i had no idea. After listening to Piggy Pie i just started bustin out laughing about fucking funy this shit was and i wanted more. so i took the cd and went into my room. i had a blank recordable tape so i recored it as my copy untill i was able to save enought cash to go out and buy the cd... at this time in my life there wasnt much of my music collection. i had Adam Sandler his first albem on tape that was about the only shit that was major with the cuss words in it. now i had this fresh ass tape that had all types of cool shit on it. about a few weeks later i was cought shoplifting at WalMart. my mom was hella disapointed in my ass. i felt really bad about it all. so i stayed home and laid in my room, not eating or anything just feeling like shit. then about a week later i was sentance to server juvie. this was hard core for someone that normally never gets into trouble, well doesnt get cought. i use to steal all type of shit packs of smokes, candy bars, sodas Jolts, we didnt have any faygo here where im at i didnt even know what faygo was at this time. anyways i was put on 6 mounths suppervised probation. i would just lay in my room being a nothing but a loner not eating maybe getting something to drink and what not. i started to really listen to what the song How Many Times. fucking judges me. who the fuck is he. then i reallized the how fucking connection. i was hooked. from there on i would listen to this tape when i started school. play it in the back of the bus with some cheap ass tape player that my great grandma gave me. and the speakers that i took from my brothers room. the bus driver would always get complants about the type of music was bing played. most of the time i would just play just to piss those around me off. from there came high school i was 17 now and this one fucking Histpanic was fucking with this chick on the bus fondleing her and what not this is one of the fucking fags that was just anoing as hell that he just kept on righting checks that his ass cant cash. so i was say shit like fuck man leave her alone. the this kids fucking older brother steps in which was about 15 or so still younger than i. he said what are you going to do about it. then the shit went down. i cant remember the exact wording but all i can remember was that i was telling the bitch to step off the bus when we get to the elementry school to drop off the younger kids. they were down. the bus stoped, and i let the fuckers get off first. that way i could keep an eye on them. one of my homies was still on the bus just chillin looking out the window. when i got off the bus we moved to were we were up in both of each others faces. he was like come on man what the fuck are you going to do. just egging it on. i was about 2 inches from his face. than BOOM!!! I head butted that mother fucker blooding his fucking noise. he stumbled back, i grabed his coat and started punching the fuck out of him. then this kids other brothers (2 in total) jumped in and started jumpin my ass. then one other little fake ass lil white kid jumped in which was one of thier friends. while the were jumping my ass i was still beating the fuck out this kid we were on the ground i was getting kicked from both sides punched and what not. my homie saw what was going on and jumped off the bus. started kicking the other kids off me. now that is what a fucking homie is there for. after a bit we noticed the bus was about to leave. so i stoped fighting because i had to go to school. my friend go on but as i got on the bus driver was like trying to shut the door on my ass. i was like come one Jean i have to get to school. about 1 min later he released the door i got in. right after we got out of school this kid that i was beating the fuck out of was sitting up front away from everyone else. he would turn his head from side to side. i could see that his fucking noise was all swollen he fucking eyes were blackened. and he had a split lip. all i got to say is if you fuck with one been you better be prepaired to fight the entire barreto. anyways that put me back on for another 6 months pb for a pv (probation violation) fuckers. after that i was straight. i was out buying the other ICP albumes i turned some of my friends onto icp.about my jr year my friends started to sell me out. except the one that helped me back a few years. the started thinking they were the shit because thier moms and what not would buy them thier shit. true i didnt get the The Great Milenko untill my senor year of highshool... anyways the one back staben kid i thought was my friend turned his true colors on me and he was like fuck you man and what not. so i was all like what ever man. you will get yours. after the school year i went up to work as a plaster hottie to make a little extra cash. oh ya that place is call Sunvalley, ID. i had some fesh ass time up there. i made enought money that i bought the E-z E cd. and about 160 bucks to do what ever. one of my friends was like we should get tats. i was like hell ya. i just turned 18 didnt need parent consent... my friend got a vampires skull with a spiders web around it on his entire sholder. i hadnt decieded what i wanted. at this time i had COC on tape retail verson, Ringmaster, Tunnel of Love, and the Riddle box. i was thinking.. hell i was all up in ICPs shit. so i found the one that related to me the most. Ringmaster. the leader of them all... so i sat down with the icp albem cover gave it to the guy and he was like alright let me draw this up. he quickly drew it up. and boom i had my first tat ever. the ringmaster on my left sholder. this was tight ass shit. couple years later just before the 6th came out i got another tat. it was the emblem on the website THESIXTH.com. right when i seen that i wanted it. it was fresh. im 22 now and still young i have several more tats to go. i have all 6 joker kards and i feel i followed them was far as i need to. meet up in shager LA. thats my story love all the clowns out there. fuck those who jugde. Peace.

Arrrgggg, i cant believe the text of morons can piss me off so much but many of you have accomplished that, especially that comment by punk child saying "all rap is is talking to extremely crappy background music,the only talent involved is rhyming". Heh maybe for your puny little pea brain, rhyming is a talented skill, HAH. Depends on your definition of rap i guess and that statement could be true especially when you come to an eminem discussion and make it easy on yourself picking on these uneducated mtv groupies, because eminem is some POP mainstream bull shit(Only reason im here is cuz im trying to enlighten you mainstream listeners to where the real hip hop is at). However rhyming being the only skill true hip hop artists have, is not true with the good hip hop I listen to. If you heard some good music like the Deltron 3030 cd(Or any del cd for that matter) and actually understood it and realized how good the production went with the lyrics. No 3 other people on this earth have enough talent to do what Del, Dan the Automater and Kid Koala did to make this album. Its like a dope poem coming from a very educated mind speaking about his views on society and how he has risen to a level not many can even dream of reaching despite being hated by record labels and the sort, put into some great beats. But judging from your posts i figure you'd be the kind of person who would listen for about 1 min and decide you hate it. You would start to listen, not like the beats cuz you are biased torwards guitars and shit, and be confused about the lyrics and what he means by them and give up on it and say it sux.(It would also help to hear previous Del songs from his older stuff to help understand) If you want to judge the whole genre with guys like eminem and ja rule you are speaking out of ignorance and that makes you look like a moron in anybody's book. You dont see any of us dissing on punk music im sure there are plenty of good punk artists who write and produce their own quality stuff and deserve respect and YOU know there are plenty of hip hop artists out there that can do the same, you just may not want to admit it cuz you are already biased to punk music like the little teeny bopper girls in many of these posts here are biased to eminem cuz he is in their words, not mine "sooo hottt!!", punk is not my style but i dont diss it, obviously hip hop isnt yours so dont hate on something when i know you have not heard 1% of the hip hop music out there, you lousy moronic canadien with your flapping heads and looser sport hockey... eh!(Hah see what its like when people hate on you or your intrests for no good reason other than you dont like it).
Another moron that makes my $hit list here is Campking, wtf were you thinking when you posted those messages!!! Ok, only jackasses in a few years will believe that Eminem was the inventor of hip hop. ARRRGGGG that is just another idiotic statement, nobody is going to think that he is the inventor of hip hop. 100 years from know people will still recognize people and groups like Krs One, Public Enemy and Run D.M.C being the inventors of rap music. Just another example of a person speaking out of ignorance, just makes you look stupid. This quote from Campking makes him look very stupid, and racist too(heh and i bet his intelligence is the average for the people who posted here) "It is true they dont like his language, but it is better than a black guy swearing" Holy shit man, ill just hand you the dunce cap and dont get lost on your way to the corner. I'm not black but i took a bit of offense to that. Is that what you europeans think? That sounds pretty racist and moronic i dont see how a swear word coming out of a black guys mouth is any worse coming out of a white guys mouth. If that was the majority opinion of the American public, i think there would still be segregation in the south if most of us thought like that and im glad we dont(I know we americans can be much smarter that, but from the looks of many of the posts here maybe not) Its morons like you in high places slowing the progress of all mankind. There are many more posts that i can rag on but i think im starting to get carpel tunnel. PHEW anyway im just gonna list some great intelligent hip hop artists, I want you all to check em out but my guess is not many will like thier music because you may have to think a little bit to figure out thier message, you may not like it right away but if you are a real fan of music it grow on you when you listen what the have to say, Anybody can listen and enjoy the album Deltron 3030 right away no matter what your favorite genre of music is. Other good artists are the Hieroglyphics(Del the funky homosapien aka Deltron 3030 is a part of the group) Dilated Peoples, 7l & Esoteric, Akrobatik, Mr. Lif, Jedi Mind Tricks, Mos Def, Talib Kwali, Pharoahe Monch, The artists from the Demigodz just to name a few there are a lot more good ones but ive already typed WAY TOO MUCH. I urge you people to use the internet when searching for new music instead of the mtv bullshit which i bet the majority of you watch on a regular basis cuz you listen to eminem, I admit there was a time when i listen to eminem but i really started to loose intrest in him after the marshall mathers lp and realized he really isnt anything special, and without dre producing all his beats he'd be nothing.

Deltron, i agree with you, homie. You made your statement about these rap-haters very clear and hopefully, they all learned sumthin'. But i wanna say my opinions on few things: First, Eminem. Now, even though he's a mainstream rap icon, it doesn't mean he sucks. Just because his beats are well produced, it doesn't mean that only people, who listen to him are these "teenyboppers". I like Eminem's style. He is a great lyricist, but definetily not the best. There are so many better MC's out there, all around the world, who can beat eminem verbally.

Also i wanna make another thing straight: Europeans do NOT think that way. It's the same thing in here as in the U.S, or anywhere else. There's these racist peeps, who say the stupidiest things about black people and hiphop music. I'm not black either, but still it sometimes pisses me off.

And if people say Eminem was the inventor of rap about 100 years from now, they will also say that Good Charlotte was the inventor of punk. It sounds crazy, does it?

Genesis

Truly, if you haven't heard anything good by this band (IE: anything other than 'I Can't Dance' or 'Invisible Touch') or think this is the "Phil Collins band," run out to your record store and buy either The Lamb Lies Down on Broadway or A Trick of the Tail. Some may be surprised that this band had Peter Gabriel (on lead vocals) in it along with Phil Collins (on drums) in its early days. This band is a little tricky to get into at first, but are very likely one of the best bands of our time. Unlike other so-called "progressive" bands of their time, their music still sounds fresh and relevant today. They had a way of blending intelligent, complex lyrics to beautiful, listenable music. Moreover, the band produced a concept album (The Lamb) that WASN'T pretentious (like Tales From Topographic Oceans) or self-pitying drovel (like The Wall, even though some of it was quite good), which was and still is quite an accomplishment. Sadly, during the 1980's, the pop tendencies of its members transformed Genesis into the relatively mediocre pop band it's known as today. Right now, its future remains unknown after Collins' departure and the subsequent failure of its last album, Calling All Stations (with new lead singer Ray Wilson). However, Peter Gabriel has planned to turn The Lamb into a movie after his tour for Up, his latest album. So, if you like rock music in general, do yourself a favor and grab one of this band's albums from the 1970's. I hope you end up enjoying them as much as I do.

I followed G from their beginnings all the way to the present. I've seen every concert tour. My fave concert was in '73 when I footed the bill for thirty friends to go see them at the TP Warner theater in Washington D.C. I got there two hours early to hold seats in the balcony and was able to watch the sound check and sat glued to the part when Phil came on to tune his drums. I've seen 'The Lamb...' three times. When I was at the DUKE concert at Merriweather Post Pavillion (both shows), Happy the Man's Crafty Hands was the featured opening act on the sound system. Anyone into Happy The Man? By the way, I've been to HTM's Halloween parties in the 70's at the Rockingham County fairgrounds.

I just picked up "A Trick of The Tail" and am very pleased to say, even though I am listening to it for the first time as I type this, that I totally love it. As a person who has grown up hearing all about this band but never quite actually HEARING them, I am more than impressed with how relevant and interesting they sound. Everyone should go out and pick up this record. It's a monster.

I luv da beetles AALLLL theire songs r way coolio!!!!!!!!!!Da tune is so catchy.as 4 The Great Neutrino the beetles r NNOOTT highly overated, i thought that wuz ur job!!!!!!!!!!

people weren't offended simply because john lennon said that they were 'bigger than jesus,' as if this was some sort of 'blasphemy.' people were offended because they realized it was true and their religious ideals were at stake in the light of the Truth. how hard is that whenever this is the message they bring:

"...and in the end the love you take is equal to the love you take...'

DEEZ BIG OL BEACH BOY NUTS ON THE BEETLES FOREHEAD.

The Beetles are overratted. The hype was bigger then the music. Where were the Beetles in the 70's 80's 90's? They were no where. The Beach Boys were on tour and putting out Albums. Brian Wilson is the greatest musical mind of the 60's and beyond. LONG LIVE DENNIS WILSON, CARL WILSON, GOD BLESS YOU BOTH. LIVE IN ROCK AND HEAVEN FOREVER!!!!!!!!!!

Hey Hey Hey you guys!!There's a LONG story about how I got to LOVE Good Charlotte!!But I'll try to make it short ok.Ok it all started out w/ this guy I liked in which he was into different things than me.(in other words he liked rock and stuff and I liked rap and he skateboarded as I hung out w/ the preps)We started talking and then one day I told him that I liked him.He told me that he likes me too but the only problems were he had a g/f and also that I'm a prep.I told him it shouldn't matter what I am it counts on the inside.Then he invited me to come hang out w/ his friends for a while and listen to his kind of music for a while then maybe we'll see if were right for eachother.In which my friends had a problem w/ it so I hesitated on doing it but I did.So we all started hanging out & everything and I was like WOW sk8ters and ppl like that aren't really that bad!Then we started hanging out everyday in school and out of school & everything!and guess what they taught me how to skateboard!!So know my bestest friends are sk8ters and everything like that.Then the guy I liked invited me to a concert him and his band were having & I was like umm ok but I'm still into my music but I guess I'll go.I went and they were amazing!!!The guy I liked after the show asked me so what did you think?I said you guys were GREAT!Then he said well if you thought we were good then I know you'll LOVE Good Charlotte!!So he got me listening to them and everything!!And guess what I LOVE my new friends to death and for all I care my old friends can just kiss my ass b/c they didn't like me ne more just b/c I listen to different music,skateboard,and dress different than they do!If they were true friends then they should have excepted me the way I am just like the guy I like and his friends did!!(oh yea by the way now me and that guy go out!!)I LOVE YOU GOOD CHARLOTTE!!!YOUR THE BEST!!!
