

2025 Email Text – Anti-federal tax credits for school vouchers

Dear (name of elected official),

The new federal tax credit voucher scheme may look small at first—but history shows it will spiral out of control. Arizona started with a narrow voucher program for students with disabilities. Today, nearly every private and homeschool family is eligible, draining $864 million a year while public schools suffer.

Once states opt in, these programs expand rapidly—and never roll back. This is part of a larger plan to destabilize and ultimately close neighborhood public schools. Private schools are not held to the high standard that are levied upon public schools. Many are religious and are exempt of civil right laws and can discriminate based on sex, disability, religion, or sexual orientation. I do not want my tax dollars to support such schools.

Please protect our children and our schools. Reject this dangerous voucher program before it takes root. Taxpayers have enough obligations. They should not have to support private school tuition.

Thank you,
