SI: The One Secret To A Successful 2024

Preview text: This is your year babe

Happy New Year, (name)!

[Trigger Warning]

Your New Year's resolutions are like wishes.

Whether it's to:

- Get that promotion
- Start practicing mindfulness
- Go to that yoga class
- Lose them added Christmas lbs

They're not real yet, just ideas you hope for in 2024.

They are only for the first few days of the New Year (or weeks if you are really good)

If you are serious about these - get a plan together, look for guidance and take action

A change on the calendar makes ZERO difference to your goals

Leaving it till Monday won't help

Here's a little story from a client of mine and how these calls changed her life:

"I can proudly say I have a spiritual practice and have super exciting goals without needing the outcome to make me feel worthy. Relationships are better than ever! I no longer feel like the nagging wife whose husband is always doing things "wrong". I can finally see him for the beautiful loving man he is. As a parent, this has been an absolute turning point and the BEST thing I could have ever done for them. Let's just say a lifetime of suppressed anger doesn't stay so suppressed when your toddler is having a tantrum and your newborn is crying for milk.

Truly life-changing.

I'm so grateful for Ros for bringing this into my life! I couldn't have asked for a better soul to take me through it. She is so genuine and I felt she truly wanted the absolute best experience for me. Always there to provide as much value as possible, and to support me above and beyond what I expected. I had complete trust to bear my heart and soul to her and not once ever felt judged."
