Greek Glossary

Potential New Member (PNM): Anyone who is eligible to participate in recruitment.

Active: A member who has completed their period as a new member and who has been formally initiated into their organization.

Alumna: A sorority member who is no longer in college. Plural is alumnae.

Bid: A formal invitation to become a member of a sorority.

Chapter: A collegiate branch of a national or international sorority; the local organization.

Primary Recruitment: A process of membership selection a PNM goes through to join a sorority. This process occurs once a year in the Fall at UW.

Continuous Open Bidding: A less formal and more flexible process for joining a sorority. Occurs throughout the school year and a PNM can join at any point during the school year.

Greek: A term applied to members of fraternities and sororities.

Initiation: The formal ceremony through which new members are initiated into full membership within the sorority.

Invitation: A request for a potential new member to attend the next round of events from a sorority.

Legacy: A potential new member whose mother, sister, and/or grandmother is an alumna or active member of that specific national or international sorority.

National Panhellenic Conference (NPC): A collective body of twenty-six national and international fraternal organizations.

New Member: A member who has recently joined a sorority and has not yet been initiated into full membership.

Continuous Open Bidding

Continuous Open Bidding (COB) is a more informal style of Recruitment as compared to Primary Recruitment (PR). We have this alternative recruitment process so that if a student is interested in joining a sorority but was unable to/did not attend PR, just transferred into UW, or if they would prefer a more relaxed recruitment setting, they may still have a chance to become a member of our Panhellenic Community.

COB takes place throughout the year, starting after PR ends and goes until the end of spring quarter. Each chapter has their own unique, informal recruitment style, but most processes will consist of an informal meeting with one or two members to answer your questions about the chapter, where they will also get to know a little more about you. They may also invite PNMs to the chapter for dinner, a house tour, or sisterhood event, all of which give the potential new member the opportunity to gain experience with other members in the chapter. Throughout the informal recruitment process, a PNM may be extended an invitation to join one or multiple organizations. This invitation is called a "bid," and once signed, will indicate that a PNM is now a New Member of that chapter. The PNM will sign an MRABA after she is offered a “bid” and this is a binding agreement.

Bids can be extended at any point during the academic year. However, it is important to note that not all 18 chapters participate in this process, and receiving a bid is not guaranteed. Each chapter eligible has a different number of spots available. In addition, chapters may expect their New Members to move in at the earliest possible opportunity, and while this may vary, please keep this in mind and communicate your housing needs with each chapter that you meet with. This process is much less structured, and it will fall heavily on YOU to dictate your experience. You can learn about COB live in requirements here.

COB Process

What does the process look like?

You can then reach out to chapters to schedule a “date”, wait for them to reach out, and/or attend COB events

You must respond to all chapters and they must respond to you but you do not have to meet with every single chapter that reaches out and vice versa

After this you can meet chapters or see what feels like a good fit!

What do COB dates look like?

COB Events

- Hosted by the chapter with more PNMs and chapter members present
- Usually centered around an activity
- Examples: Tote bag painting, friendship bracelet, snacks, speed dating, etc

One on One dates

- Normally meet 1-3 members from a chapter
- Examples: Coffee dates, facility tours, going for a walk, or just chatting

Next Steps

Chapters will reach out within 72 hours after your meeting

They will let you know if they want to continue meeting with you, you can also choose to not to continue meeting with them

Depending how many meetings you have had they can extend a bid to you which you can choose to accept or decline

COB General Rules To Know

Two Date Minimum

You must meet with a chapter a minimum of two times before they are allowed to extend you a bid. They can choose to meet with you more than twice but that is up to the chapters discretion.

Responding

You must respond to all chapters that reach out to you and they must respond to you. You do not have to meet with every chapter if you do not want to but you must respond to all COB emails/messages. If you have any problems with chapters not responding to you please reach out to Sarah Brown at phrecdev@uw.edu!

Bids

Once a chapter extends a bid to you then you have up to 48 hours to accept or decline the bid. Bids can expire if you do not respond within 48 hours so make sure to communicate with the chapter. You can ask for an extension from the chapter but it is not guaranteed. Once you sign an MRABA you cannot join another sorority at UW for the rest of the school year.

Substances

COB dates and meetings should be drug and alcohol-free environments. If you ever find yourself in a situation that makes you uncomfortable or if you are invited to fraternity property by a chapter during this process, please don't hesitate to inform Panhellenic. Your safety and well-being are our top priorities.

University of Washington College Panhellenic Continuous Open Bidding Potential New Member Code of Ethics and Agreement of Mutual Respect

"We, as Undergraduate Members, stand for good scholarship, for guarding of good health, for maintenance of fine standards, and for serving, to the best of our ability, our college community. Cooperation for furthering fraternity life, in harmony with its best possibilities, is the ideal that shall guide our fraternity activities. We stand for service through the development of character, inspired by the close contact and deep friendship of individual fraternity and Panhellenic life. The opportunity for wide and wise human service, through mutual respect and helpfulness, is the tenet by which we strive to live."

This is accomplished by abiding by the following agreements:

- Respect for the Continuous Open Bidding process is expected at all times.
    - This includes respect toward chapter members, Panhellenic officers, university faculty and staff, and other potential new members.
- A potential new member (PNM) shall respond to all chapters that reach out within a reasonable time frame.
- A PNM shall give their full attention to chapter members during the date.
- PNMs shall not make any disparaging remarks about chapters or individuals.
    - This includes verbal or written communication, including social media posts.
- PNMs should refrain from sexist, homophobic, racist, or otherwise abhorrent conversations.
- COB dates are a substance-free process and should not include men. PNMs may not use or be in the presence of paraphernalia during the Continuous Open Bidding process.
    - Activities and conversation should not revolve around either of these topics.
    - Chapters may choose to avoid these questions but you can ask questions that are important to you.

Failure to abide by the expectations stated above will result in the review of your status as a potential new member. All Potential New Members must sign this Code of Ethics which will be included in the COB registration form.

PNM Bill of Rights

- ★ The right to be treated as an individual.
- ★ The right to be fully informed about the recruitment process.
- ★ The right to ask questions and receive true and objective answers from chapter members.
- ★ The right to be treated with respect.
- ★ The right to be treated as a capable and mature person without being patronized.
- ★ The right to ask how and why and receive straight answers.
- ★ The right to make informed choices without undue pressure from others.
- ★ The right to be fully informed about binding agreements implicit in the acceptance card signing.
- ★ The right to make one's choice and decision and accept full responsibility for the results of that decision.
- ★ The right to have a positive, safe, and enriching recruitment and new member experience.
- ★ Any potential member who experiences something contrary to the above statements should contact the University of Washington Panhellenic Association and discuss the matter with the Vice President of Recruitment Development or the Panhellenic President.
- ★ Violating any of these rules could result in your removal from the COB process and impact your ability to join a chapter at UW

PNM Resources

Chapter Finance Sheets:

All chapters' finance sheets are listed on the website. This lays out all financial expectations of you as a new member and beyond. If you have any specific questions, reach out to the chapter specifically because they will have more accurate information than Panhellenic.

COB Frequently Asked Questions:

On our website we have some common questions that we receive answers on the website. Take a look here to get some general information about COB and answers for common questions. If you still have more questions, reach out to Sarah Brown phrecdev@uw.edu.

Panhellenic Instagram:

Follow @uwpanhellenic on instagram for updates on COB events throughout the school year. As well, individual chapters will post about events they are doing for COB.

MRABA Explanation:

The MRABA is the binding agreement that you will complete when you accept a chapter's bid. Once you sign this agreement you cannot join another group on campus for the duration of the school year even if you drop the chapter before being initiated. The next time you could join a chapter after signing your MRABA is through primary recruitment 2025 or COB following primary recruitment 2025. This video explains what it means to sign an MRABA, some of the video may not pertain to COB but the general concept is correct.

Panhellenic Officers:

Sarah Brown, current Vice President of Recruitment Development for Panhellenic, is the one who runs COB and is happy to answer any questions you may have. If you want to meet with her during Autumn Quarter, feel free to stop by her office hours which will begin when school starts in HUB 236 or reach out to her phrecdev@uw.edu to schedule a time to meet.

Questions to Ask During COB:

Ice Breakers:

- ★ What is your favorite thing about UW?
- ★ What is your major?

Sam’s Law and Anti-Hazing Efforts

Washington State's updated hazing law, also known as “Sam’s Law,” went into effect in 2022. The law was named after Sam Martinez, a first-year student from Washington State University (WSU) who died from alcohol poisoning while being a new member in 2019. The law includes requirements around hazing prevention and reduction at higher education institutions. The UW Panhellenic Executive Board stands firmly against hazing and is strongly in support of this law.

In accordance with our recognition agreement and Panhellenic Bylaws, each chapter is required to complete hazing programming each year in order to remain active and in good standing with the University. This programming educates our members on the types of hazing and its consequences and encourages them to take an active stand against it. Our Panhellenic community is committed to creating a hazing-free community.

In compliance with Sam’s Law, fraternities and sororities at Washington universities must provide notice of the previous five years of all findings of violations of anti-hazing policies, state or federal laws relating to hazing, alcohol, drugs, sexual assault, or physical assault, or the institution's code of conduct against the local chapter on their websites. These violations can also be found on our Panhellenic website and individual chapter Instagram bios. If you are concerned with a chapter's violation status, we urge you to ask questions to the chapter directly during your rounds.

If you would like to learn more about Sam’s Law, you can do so here. If you would like to view the UW Sam’s Law Compliance report, you can do so here.

The Panhellenic Executive Council

The Panhellenic Executive Council is made up of 11 women who represent the Panhellenic sorority community on campus.

These women are the governing body set to create a positive environment for all sorority members on campus. During their time in office, they will oversee the 18 Panhellenic organizations on campus, including their philanthropy events, recruitment events, and campus relations. Each of these women will be disaffiliated from their organization throughout the recruitment process.

How To Get Involved

We are so excited for you to join our community. Here are some Greek Affiliated Organizations you can get involved in after Bid Day!

Green Greeks
Instagram: @uwgreengreeks

Passionate about the environment and bettering the Greek community? Join Green Greeks! We are an environmental RSO dedicated to promoting a greener, more sustainable way of living right here at the University of Washington. Our organization is composed of multiple project groups - each with their own environmental goal. This past year, we've implemented chapter gardens, promoted sustainable fashion, held a greek-wide competition to limit food waste, and so much more. If you're interested, please join us at our next community clean! Green Greeks also offers a certification level program. Inquire about the level of certification with each individual chapter.

Panhellenic Leadership Council (PLC)
Instagram: @uwplc

The Panhellenic Leadership Council (PLC) is a group of inspired and driven individuals in their first year of Panhellenic membership. The council consists of two delegates from each of the 18 chapters, and works to instill unity in all Panhellenic new members. Being a part of PLC offers delegates the opportunity to meet individuals in other chapters, represent their new member classes, foster leadership skills, and learn about future involvement opportunities with Panhellenic and the University of Washington.

The Panhellenic Leadership Council provides new members a space to create relationships outside of their chapters, work on personal and professional development, and make a positive impact on the community. With the provided opportunities to engage in ASUW Senate, plan community wide sisterhood events, support local philanthropies, and attend talks from community speakers. PLC delegates are given the opportunity to better their community, their relationships, and themselves.

Greeks Take Action is an RSO started by Greek students to actively seek out and propose solutions to systematic issues relating to sexual violence and misconduct within the Greek community and beyond. We have a steering committee of 11 members of the Greek and UW community that through increased efforts in advocacy and lobbying, facilitates community-wide initiatives that promote culture and legislative change. By continuing to educate our community, acting as a valuable resource to survivors, and motivating change within governing bodies, GTA is the voice of safety, support, and progress within our community.
