

Hey X,

One-of-a-kind complete analysis on (your clients?) for literally nothing - I will get there in a moment.

<Compliment>.

Long story short, I'm a professional growth consultant and I'm currently doing valuable quick 15-minute calls about the current situation in X market. The main goal is to eliminate any plateau that you might have had in your business which leads to not moving forward at a satisfactory pace.

As I mentioned I'm doing a full analysis of specific businesses from the inside (with you) + the outside (with similar businesses) for free.

There is a catch though, I will be chatting about your future goals, current problems and stuff like that. All I need in return is your opinion and insight on the matter so I could add it to my business analysis research in this niche.

Hence, I was wondering if you too are stuck and can't seem to get any business success.

P.S. I can only do a limited amount calls due to the nature of the analysis (Too much information will eventually counter-intuitive).

So, are you prepared to sit back and witness a non-stop flow of clients and forget the word "rest"? If you are, "Yes" is all I need to set things up.

Best regards

Sanam
