

ROOTS-OF-LIFE

Atlas Application

I'll do my best!
@Strawberry Ruby

ROOTS-OF-LIFE

NAME
ATLAS

GENDER
FEMALE

COLONY
CLOVER

RANK
COMMONER

About

Name	Atlas
Name meaning	Named herself after the moth
Nicknames	Mo, Moth,
Gender	Female
Pronouns	She/her
Sex	AFAB
Sexuality	Lesbian
Age	49 months
Colony	Clover Colony
Rank	Commoner

Appearance

Appearance	Black barless ticked tabby molly with high white and heterochromia
Scars	None

Impairments	None
Accessories	None
Genotype	Ll Bb Aa McMc spsp TiaTi Wbwb Ccb wsws

Personality

Atlas wants to be there for her family, she wants to learn all that she can and use this to help her family. Atlas is level-headed and disciplined, she wants to prove she is mature and independent. She often gets excited easily by things that interest her, and is ambitious and eager to prove herself. She is also intuitive about things and often takes the lead on things. Atlas does come off as a bit bossy though, and with how stubborn she is, can end up arguing that her way is the better way to go. She can come off as assertive as well and that can definitely annoy others when she becomes too pushy.

Family

Raspberry • Mother • @Melontine

Scarred sable sepia colorpoint molly with a torn ear

Honey • Surrogate mother • @peeperonipip

Black golden shell molly with long, curled fur

Ponerine • Brother • @MyanDaisy

Black ticked tabby tom with curly fur and white

Dragonfly • Sister • @hawkthespork

Black ticked tabby molly with curly fur

Killdeer • Brother • @SnOwO

Black ticked tabby tom with curly fur and white

Ash • Sister • @TheRacingEevee

Black ticked tabby tom with white

Arbutus • Sibling • @Melontine

Black ticked tabby with high white

Raspberry • Maternal grandmother • NPC

Tortoiseshell colorpoint molly

Coffee Bean • Maternal grandfather • Owned by @SnOwO

Chocolate colorpoint tom

Seven • Maternal aunt • NPC

Chocolate tortoiseshell colorpoint

Jade • Biological grandmother • NPC

Black golden shell molly with long curly fur

Teddy • Biological grandfather • NPC

Fluffy black golden shell tom

Miracle • Biological aunt • NPC

Small black golden shell molly with long curly fur

Ivan • Biological uncle • NPC

Black golden shell tom with long curly fur

Sunshine • Biological uncle • NPC

Black golden shell tom with long curly fur

History

Early Life

Moth was born the oldest out of a litter of six, the daughter of the current Clover Colony leader, Raspberry. Her younger siblings are all named after bugs as well, Ant, Dragonfly, Weevil, Locust, and Caterpillar; Moth wants to be able to protect them once she is older. As the oldest it is her responsibility after all, and just like their mother, she will be the group leader and help her siblings out. Being a team leader at this time was a valuable asset as Moth and her siblings would grow up in unstable times.

Though Moth was much too young to fully comprehend its effects, a major earthquake would strike the colonies and leave disorder in its wake. Several landslides had occurred in the Clover Colony with the most impacted area being the very valley Moth and many others were raised in. Resources, including prey, were harder to come by, and the deaths of Nectarine and Tern left many cats devastated. Needless to say, Raspberry and her potentials had their paws full with the Clover Colony's recovery. It ended up being an important experience for Moth— she was eager to be there for her siblings when her mom couldn't be.

Rooster found a litter of kittens in the aftermath of the earthquake and swiftly brought them to the Clover Colony to care for. They were an intriguing bunch and generally got along well with Moth and her siblings. Plus, though Raspberry deeply cared for and prioritized her kittens, she obviously was sidetracked by taking care of her colony, so the extra company was appreciated.

Autumn came, the vibrancy of the Clover Colony fading away into a dull amber coat. The colonies had struggled with weather and resources long before the changing of the seasons, so it wasn't much of a concern to the Clover Colony now. Outside of the Clover Colony's current happenings, tensions had been raised between the oldest colony, the Fire Colony, and their ex-colonymates that'd gone rogue and partnered with the Cavern Colony. Though Raspberry didn't want to see the Fire Colony fall, she deemed their requests for help ultimately too risky for the Clover Colony. She couldn't put the futures of her kittens in jeopardy for the sake of a kind gesture. Not incredibly long after the whole dispute, the Fire Colony fell and Clover Colony cats noticed the expansion of the Cavern Colony along their border. Looks like they'd be getting used to their new neighbor, then.

Jessamine and Alto went missing with the only plausible reason for their disappearance being a fox that'd passed through the territory. And, not long after, Moth's own sibling went missing as well... except without such recent scents lingering around. Whether the incidents were connected or not, nobody could know for sure. It might've been Caterpillar's choice to leave the Clover Colony without uttering a word about it... if that was the case, then maybe Moth had failed at being there for him. Around the same time, Moth and her remaining siblings started testing their independence due to the rising expectations to provide. Such an important milestone was soured by having to keep an eye out for the missing cats, and though the littermates kept their hopes up, no resolution would come.

It wasn't long before Moth was given the opportunity to change her name, as per Clover Colony tradition. She stuck to her roots, deciding to name herself after a type of moth: the Atlas. Ant changed his name to Ponerine, Weevil to Killdeer, and Locust to Ash, while Dragonfly seemed content with the name she was given. It was a satisfying ceremony, but certainly a bit confusing at times with everyone being so used to their old names! Also, during this time, a newer colony named the Pyre Colony welcomed cats from other colonies to come visit and learn about their customs. While it was intriguing, Atlas decided to stay in the Clover Colony with her family, valuing them above all else.

Rooster and his whole family decided to go to the Pyre Colony around wintertime, making the Clover Colony feel a little lonelier. Having not seen them for a while, the Clover Colony began to miss their friends more strongly. Nobody had heard from the Pyre Colony despite things seeming well and Raspberry was beginning to get antsy. A check-in was in order, though it'd be a while yet.

Adulthood

Atlas and her siblings were now full-fledged adults. She still missed Caterpillar, and she'd been given reasons to miss the peers she'd grown up with, but she'd set her sights on caring for what she had now.

Trivia

Interests

- ♥ Learning
- ♥ Bugs
- ♥ Being there for her siblings

- ✖ Not learning
- ✖ Disappointing her siblings
- ✖ Not being good enough

Beliefs

• ?

Other

• ?

Application base created by @peeperonipip

Art drawn by @peeperonipip

Character designed by @Melontine

Written by @Strawberry Ruby, additional help @peeperonipip