1:1 Private Coaching

For Personalized Sobriety Support

As an experienced sobriety coach who has also been sober continuously for over 16 years, I have the ability to support you on your sobriety journey in a very unique way. I use my intuitive knowledge paired with my experience and education to create a personalized plan to assist you in gaining momentum in your sobriety. I'm known to be the coach that mentors you back home to yourself. I hold you to your standards and tell you what you need to hear...& not always what you want to hear. I believe in you and know your potential and will hold space for you on your journey.

As a private client, we will meet for 1:1 sessions over Zoom 2 or 4 times monthly for one hour sessions. You will have me in your back pocket for support via Voxer 7 days a week, which will ensure you have the customized support and mentorship needed to create lasting change in your recovery and your life.

Private Zoom Sessions & Voxer Support in between sessions.

What is Voxer? Voxer is a private walkie talkie app where you can hear me in real time respond to your coaching questions...it's like having me in your back pocket for support.
