Expertwriting.org Reviews

I am extremely unhappy with this order. The instructions were not followed and I provided more than enough information for the writer. When I told support that the writer had messed up, causing me to be unable to turn n my essay they told me I would have to pay more money. I was NOT able to turn in this essay and it was a complete waste of time and money. I enjoyed my first few times ordering from the site but this has been a terrible experience and I will let others know. Support offered no resolution and told me that the writer was on probation and "fined" , but did not offer me a refund. I wasted money and lost the grade. Thanks expert writing!
DO NOT PAY FOR UPGRADES!

Writer was great and took the time to revise paper as needed. Will use again.

Content Quality – 6/10

ExpertWriting.org Review ExpertWriting.org Review On ExpertWriting a native English writer is apparently an extra as well. On the company's website, you wouldn't find much information about the writers, so this may be an unpleasant surprise. What's more, an ENL writer will cost you 50% more than the Best available writer.

Some say they had a great experience with the website, whereas others said they could have done better. There are even reports of plagiarism and copying which aren't acceptable for academic content.

Don't do it. Trust me. I wasted about $300 so you wouldn't make the same mistake. I've always written my own papers, but this was my graduating semester and I was swamped. So I decided to try expertwriting.org despite being nervous about hiring someone to write my paper. I even paid extra for an English writer and high priority. The paper I received despite those perks was laughable. STRIKE ONE -- the paper didn't arrive on time, which is a big deal when you have a deadline and you pay by when you want it. They sent it to me late and only after I hounded them. STRIKE TWO -- it didn't seem to be written by an English writer that I paid extra for. The grammar was off. Also, the paper itself would cite footnotes but there was no substance to what was being quoted. It was like somebody stuttering after briefly reading a Wikipedia article. Any professor who takes papers seriously would have given a D or a C with how unsubstantial the paper was. I ended up writing the paper myself because nothing could be salvaged. Getting a refund, partial or whole, is another nightmare. Don't go with this website.

Expert Writing Services, Prices, and Quality

ExpertWriting.org Review ExpertWriting.org Review Expert Writing offers a range of writing services from their website's homepage, whether that's a standard essay or business plan, or something more complex like thesis and term papers. Some of the more complicated assignment types, like dissertations, are not available.

ExpertWriting.org Review

ExpertWriting is one of the newest paper writing companies on the market, yet it has already attracted many students from all over the world. If you want to find an answer to this question "Is expertwriting.org legit?", you need to keep reading. At first glance, it looks perfect: the website is nice and bright and the prices are lower than average. However, finding an unbiased review of ExpertWriting is not too easy and there's no way to know whether the service can keep its promises.

So is ExpertWriting trustworthy or not? We conducted our own independent ExpertWriting review to answer that question. Keep reading to find out everything you need to know about ExpertWriting, its prices, writers, and guarantees.

How To Order On ExpertWriting?

The ordering process on ExpertWriting is very simple. When you click on the Order section of the website, you'll be redirected to the order application form. First, you have to provide all the necessary information about your paper: your academic level, type of paper, subject and topic. The academic levels range from high school to Ph.D. ExpertWriting writers cover many different disciplines too. If you can't find yours on the list, you can choose Other in the subject section and provide more detailed paper instructions later. The paper instructions field is optional but highly recommended. The more details you provide, the higher is the chance the writer will write just the paper you need. After that, you can also choose the number of sources to be used in your paper. Whether you decide to include 2 or 8 sources, the price won't change, so it's a good way to make sure you'll get a high-quality paper.

The second part of the application form is Price Calculation. There you can specify the number of pages and the deadline for your paper. The deadlines vary from 3 hours to 14 days. At that stage, you're also asked to choose your preferred writer category. There are 4 writer categories on ExpertWriting:

According to ExpertWriting, the best available writer is "any writer" who is available at the moment. Therefore, there's no guarantee that the writer will be an expert in your particular subject. At the same time, it is the cheapest option for students who don't have much money. An advanced writer, on the other hand, is a writer who has proven experience in your field and has worked on similar assignments before. This is great, but isn't every assignment supposed to be assigned to the writer with the most experience in the area? For most services, it's a given, not an extra. If you choose an Advanced writer, expect to pay 25% more than the minimum price.

On ExpertWriting a native English writer is apparently an extra as well. On the company's website, you wouldn't find much information about the writers, so this may be an unpleasant surprise. What's more, an ENL writer will cost you 50% more than the Best available writer. If you're a returning client of ExpertWriting paper writing service, you can choose a writer with whom you have already worked with. The final price for your paper will depend on the chosen writer's category.

After you finish your application, you'll have to make an upfront payment. The countdown till your deadline will start once your payment is received. When your paper is ready, you'll get an email notification. Then you can download your ExpertWriting order from your profile.

ExpertWriting Prices

Most students will be happy to hear that ExpertWriting has quite affordable prices. The prices start at $8.99 per page of a high school level essay ordered 14 days in advance. Naturally, if you are on a shorter deadline, the price will rise. For a 7-day deadline, it will be at least $13.00 per page. If you only have 24 hours left, expect to pay $20.00 per page.

Another aspect that affects the price of your paper is your academic level. As we mentioned above, the starting price for a high-school level page is $8.99. It is $10.99 for a college-level paper and $13.99 for university. The prices for Master and Ph.D. levels are significantly higher – $17.99 and $24.99 respectively.

Keep in mind that the price also changes depending on your topic. Liberal arts paper will cost you less than science papers in disciplines such as Aviation, Chemistry, or Physics. Finally, there are also some extras you can add to your order for an additional fee.

- Plagiarism Report – $9.99

While many paper writing companies offer additional plagiarism reports, it always makes us question the company's plagiarism policy. Again, a plagiarism-free paper should be a given, not an extra.

- Abstract Page – $14.99

If you're ordering a large paper you might consider getting an abstract page. However, if you intend to read the paper before submitting it, it is better to write it yourself and save some money

- High Priority – $14.99

High Priority extra implies that you will have a 24/7 VIP-manager who will be tracking your order. Admittedly, it might give you some peace of mind. But wouldn't you rather choose a service that you can trust without any extras?

ExpertWriting discounts

Students love discounts, so we had to include a comment about the company's discount policy in our ExpertWriting review. Sadly, it's not very generous. On the company's main page you can find a 5% discount code for your first order, but that's the only code you will find on the website. However, if you're a recurring customer you might get an ExpertWriting promotional code in your mailbox. Asking customer support is also a good idea, especially if you're placing a large order.

ExpertWriting Writers

Writers are perhaps the most important aspect of an essay writing company. Many students are ready to pay a higher price if they have reasons to believe that their paper will be written by a real expert. Despite its name, EssayWriting is a different case. The prices are quite affordable, which is great, but what about the quality?

ExpertWriting doesn't give you any information about its writers, which is really suspicious. In their FAQ section, they claim their writers "have degrees in various fields and pass through rigorous testing". However, they don't specify whether their writers have Bachelor's or Master's degrees, nor do they provide any information about the requirements you have to meet to become a writer. Well, maybe there aren't any. As we mentioned before, ExpertWriting will charge you extra for an ENL writer, which proves that most of the writers aren't native English speakers.

Unfortunately, we haven't found any ExpertWriting reviews from the company's writers, which is somewhat suspicious too.
