Subject line: It is not just about thinking

Your mind is like your own enemy.

And with any enemy, you can do one of two things...

Either you surrender him, or he surrenders you!

There is no other option.

In this case either YOU control your mind and win the battle, or YOU lose control and get crushed by the ones who don't.

But here is the good news! even if you don't have that power of intense focus and control yet...

Here is the clue for you that will help immensely

Subject line: Compare it yourself

You stand in front of your mirror and see a guy, he looks like you but he is a bit different.

He is not putting things off just because he didn't feel like doing.

He refuses to make excuses like "I'm not motivated today" or "I just feel tired" to escape heavy tasks that he still has to do someday.

You either see a weak man that is crippled in hardship or a man who is focused on turning his dreams into reality. A MAN with an indestructible will to win.

Which one are you?

If you are subscribed to this email list, chances are you are striving to be the best one could be.

Qualia Mind has already helped 1000s of men to achieve resilient focus and motivation in just a few days.

15 seconds before the fight starts.

Everyone is screaming, judges ring the bell and...FIGHT

In the cage, you have to forget about any negative outcome.

2 seconds of thinking and you can wake up in an ambulance car with a broken nose.

2 guys 1 cage 100s of people screaming. Who is going to be the king of the ring?

Well, not my opponent.

Even though I got hit a lot, I managed to throw a clean hook and knock him out right on the spot after 42 seconds.

Now, I have discovered my main problem in the ring. I wasn't able to fully concentrate and act fast. That's why I got hit 4 of the 5 punches. Messy face after that one.

I thought the solution for my concentration could be meditation or some weird mindset tricks from a Youtube guru. But they take a long time to master.

I found a better solution that gave me all the power, energy and focus of the universe in just 15 minutes.

After using it for 2 weeks, my opponents could barely touch me. I felt like a reborn Muhammad Ali of Austria.
