

Oceanus

Amid the dance of light through water Dolphins spin and frolic and play, Near the coral reef below glides the graceful manta ray.

Fishes of ev'ry size and color, and the kelp among the foam are few 'mid the wonders of creation that call the sea their home.

The source of life
The source of life
Origin of the very breath of earth.

And yet, we may never know completely ev'ry secret of the sea.
Countless tides have come and gone Through the limitless deep.

Whether in waves of crashing energy or serene tranquility,
the ocean is endlessly singing
the song it has for ages sung
and for all eternity.

The ocean is endlessly singing
the song it has for ages sung
and for all
eternity.
