

Eizen's Copper Wand of Purity

(from "Wondrous Relics" by Judges Guild)

This is a 6" long metal wand made of copper. This wand was made by the cleric, "Eizen, the Coinchanger." He enchanted it to assist him in combating the influx of cheap coinage into his city.

There are 3 of the wands of purity; gold, silver, and copper. Each of the three wands works only on its own type of metal. If the wand is touched to a coin that is less than 93% of the appropriate metal, it glows with a bright green light. If the coin is at least 93% pure, then the wand does not glow.

Value: The copper wand is worth 5,000 GP, but it could only be sold for its full value in a city that cares about the quality of its money.
