OF PUBLIC AFFAIRS
UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

EQUITY AND INCLUSION STRATEGY & IMPLEMENTATION PLAN

May 2026

INTRODUCTION

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

The Humphrey School of Public Affairs educates, engages, and equips leaders and communities to discover solutions that advance the common good in our diverse world. We seek to achieve our mission by:

- Creating an inclusive, welcoming, and supportive school environment
- Ensuring that the people and scholarship at the School reflect our community and the world
- Building an institution committed to intercultural growth and learning

Humphrey School faculty, staff, students, and alumni share a commitment to equity, inclusion, and diversity that are the legacy of our namesake, Hubert H. Humphrey. In 1948 Mayor Humphrey burst on the national political scene with an impassioned speech at the Democratic National Convention in which he called for inclusion of civil rights in the party platform.

In 1961, then-Senator Humphrey reminded us that “it is one thing to enact legislation that outlaws flagrant examples of racial discrimination—segregated hotels, buses, and parks. It is another thing to eliminate the more subtle and sophisticated techniques that effectively limit true freedom of choice in jobs, education, and housing.”

True to his vision, the Humphrey School is committed to creating an inclusive and equitable scholarly community and to confronting the “subtle and sophisticated” systems that limit true freedom and constrain true diversity of people and thought.

As stated in the 2023-2027 Strategic Plan:

The Humphrey School will achieve true diversity, equity, inclusion, access, and belonging at the employee, the student, and the community levels that will position the Humphrey School as a global leader for inclusive engagement.

We will be a fierce advocate for inclusivity, equity, and access across ethnic, racial, religious, gender, and ability identities. We will actively work to end the presence and effects of racism, sexism, ableism, ageism, homophobia, classism, xenophobia, antisemitism, [Islamophobia, and other forms of religious oppression, and all forms of bias and exclusion in our community.

We will be rigorous in generating and using data and insights through community partnerships to promote evidence-based decisions that matter to the quality of life for people. Our students will engage with communities in projects that are mutually beneficial. These projects will catalyze, support, and inform collaborative action that will have a lasting positive impact for generations to come.

DEFINITION OF TERMS: DIVERSITY, EQUITY, AND INCLUSION

These three terms are used frequently in this strategy and implementation plan and so we offer working definitions here.

Diversity: Within the Humphrey School, our concept of creating a diverse community broadly encompasses people with identities that have been historically marginalized in our society and underrepresented in higher education and the realm of public affairs, particularly:

- American Indians and other indigenous populations
- People of color, including underrepresented groups and new immigrant populations
- People with both apparent and non-apparent disabilities
- People who identify as women
- People who identify and/or express gender as trans gender, gender queer and/or non-binary
- People of various sexual identities and expressions
- First-generation students from economically disadvantaged backgrounds

We also recognize issues of access and school climate for individuals who might encounter barriers based on their religious expression, age, national origin, ethnicity, caste, or veteran status. Furthermore, we recognize the importance of working with people who claim more than one of the above identities.

Equity: Seeking to establish systems and practices that are fair and just, based on a recognition of individual differences and sociopolitical contexts that disproportionately impact some people more than others.

Inclusion: Creating, inviting, and welcoming individuals into an environment where all people have an opportunity to learn and contribute. Within the Humphrey School, we always seek to include multiple and potentially divergent perspectives into a common community of inquiry and learning.

RATIONALE FOR ANNUAL UPDATES

The 2012–2017 Strategic Plan was the first of its kind and presented a grand vision for diversity at the Humphrey School. It incorporated medium and short-term objectives and strategies in service of longer-term aspirational goals. Goals, objectives, and strategies were developed in six focal areas. Many of the School’s diversity objectives and strategies were realized! We learned that a vision and strategic plan for diversity guides and facilitates meaningful outcomes and impacts. No longer is there a question as to whether we can positively impact the School’s climate and way of doing business.

Looking back on the 2012 plan, we also realize that the general idea of diversity has evolved, making some of the ideas presented out of date or out of the strategic vision for the School. With equity, inclusion, and diversity much more at the center of the present dialogue in higher education, there comes a recognition that our planning and actions require more frequent attention than a five-year cycle allows.

Our demonstrated successes in the area of equity, inclusion, and diversity, paired with a far more dynamic context in this realm, provide the rationale for an annual review and revision of our objectives and strategies within our more stable, overarching goals.

RATIONALE FOR FOCUS AREA–LED PLANNING

The 2012–2017 Strategic Plan captured input from a broad and diverse subset of the Humphrey community. The One Humphrey planning committee drew upon information collected through these processes to develop goals, objectives, strategies, and performance measures in six focus areas. The resulting strategic plan was reviewed by key stakeholders and ultimately approved by the School’s Executive Committee.

Our 2017 refresh process clarified that the 2012 plan generated a great deal of success and progress, but also that accountability to focus area-specific objectives and strategies remains a challenge. We have demonstrated that we can make substantial progress in these areas through a centralized planning process. Evidence from the 2017 refresh suggests that we can make even more progress if we decentralize the process, allowing each focus area to develop annual objectives, strategies, and actions that are appropriate to existing resources and that meet current (and changing) priorities. We see this as a natural evolution of the School's capacity to identify, engage, and overcome equity, inclusion, and diversity challenges.

DECENTRALIZING THE PLANNING PROCESS

This workbook contains resources that support a decentralized annual planning process for the review and revision of strategic objectives and actions within the School's key focus area. It is a guide to key personnel, timetables, and current and historical information relevant to equity, inclusion, and diversity goals.

Following the process, each focus area will be able to convene to review and revise its respective goals, objectives, strategies, and actions for the academic year. Once each focus area has reviewed and revised its respective strategic plan and implementation process, the individual parts will combine to form the School's comprehensive plan, which will be approved annually by the Executive Council.

ROLE OF THE EQUITY AND INCLUSION COUNCIL

The 2017 refresh established an Equity and Inclusion Council (EIC) that includes representatives of faculty, staff, students, and alumni. Two co-chairs, one faculty member and one staff member, will be selected by the Dean's office to lead to the EIC. The responsibilities of the EIC are to identify, implement, and report progress of the School's overall Equity and Inclusion Strategy Plan. The EIC has the authority and responsibility to develop recommendations and to develop implementation proposals for those recommendations to present to the Executive Council and the Dean.

CURRICULUM

GOAL: Equip students with the knowledge and skills needed to effectively engage equity and inclusion in the realm of public affairs.

OBJECTIVE I: Increase the breadth and depth of learning related to equity and inclusion through the development of new courses and workshops.

Strategy:

- Continue our work to integrate DEI and racial justice topics into core curriculum to establish a foundational level of understanding for students.
- An Equity and Inclusion Visiting Practitioner Fund is available for instructors to offer stipends to guest speakers on equity and inclusion based topics to allow them to share with their classes (In Spring 25 and Fall 25 semesters $3,850 was distributed to 18 practitioners). This fund will continue to be available and is not at risk of being cut.
- Continue to elevate and make coursework with DEI content more visible to students through promotion in Public Affairs Course Highlights and other sources, there is a separate section on the website for courses that center DEI.

OBJECTIVE II: Improve the process and tools used to assess the equity and inclusion content of current courses.

Strategy:

- Work with all DGSs, Area Chairs and Concentration Leads to complete an annual scan of DEI content and approaches across the curriculum.
- Develop and implement recommendations for improving digital and other forms of accessibility.

OBJECTIVE III: Offer faculty and staff professional development opportunities and highlight promising practices that will help them improve the frequency and richness of classroom discussions that focus on equity and inclusion.

Strategy:

- Engage faculty, including adjuncts, in faculty retreats and other venues in learning from each other and other experts about best practices in integrating equity and inclusion content in the curriculum.
- Promote resources and learning opportunities for additional DEI learning through the Academic Programs and Technology Updates monthly announcements.
- Promote the Equity and Inclusion Visiting Practitioners Fund for community-based speakers to enhance DEI content in courses.

RECRUITMENT AND RETENTION: FACULTY AND STAFF

GOAL: Recruit and retain faculty and staff that is reflective of the communities we serve.

OBJECTIVE I: Recruitment and hiring for faculty and staff

Strategy:

- Strategically plan for 5-year hiring plan approved in 2023
- Partner with area chairs and faculty members each spring to collaboratively develop the annual faculty hiring plan.
- Pursue support from programs offered by the University of Minnesota's Office for Equity and Diversity—such as the Bridge Funding for Faculty program—to enhance recruitment and retention efforts.

OBJECTIVE II: Onboarding and Offboarding

Strategy:

- When onboarding new employees, include information about the Equity and Diversity Certificate Program as well as an incentive program for certificate completion.
- Connect new employees to resource groups and networks in order to help increase the percentage of women and underrepresented minority groups as well as fostering an inclusive environment throughout the University.
- Incorporate “stay interviews” and post-exit interviews. Both tools are effective ways to accurately identify the reasons why employees stay at the School and causes/reasons they leave (i.e., turnover).
- Simplify the staff onboarding process and resources, revamp new employee orientation
- Maintain and update Faculty FAQ and Handbook

OBJECTIVE III: Professional development and retention

Strategy:

- Develop a culture of recognition and awards within the school community to highlight notable faculty achievement, including awards, publications, and research grants, through announcements at faculty meetings, faculty newsletters, and faculty speaker series.
- Consistently integrate faculty development opportunities into meetings and retreats, covering topics such as sexual harassment prevention, diversity and inclusion, constructive dialogue skills, and accommodating student needs.
- Provide ongoing training opportunities and information in the areas of unconscious bias to all employees.
- Connect employees to resource groups and networks in order to help to increase the percentage of women and underrepresented minority groups as well as fostering an inclusive environment throughout the University.
- Provide opportunities for faculty and staff leadership exploration and development.

RECRUITMENT: STUDENTS

GOAL: Recruit a student body that is reflective of the communities we serve.

OBJECTIVE I: Develop and execute a recruitment strategy that reaches a diverse prospective student population.

Strategy:

- The admissions team participates in Graduate Fairs across the Twin Cities, Greater Minnesota, and across the country. Our goal is meet prospective students where they are and help them discover all the Humphrey has to offer them. We also hold virtual sessions online in order to provide ease of access to Admissions events
- The admissions team visits undergraduate classes at the UMN Twin Cities and UMN Morris Campus to present to undergraduate students in political science, economics, and social sciences in order to illuminate how the Humphrey School could help them actualize their goals. Our faculty are also great partners in this area, visiting undergraduate classes in STEM and Urban Studies.
- The Humphrey is an annual sponsor of the Minnesota Nonprofit Council (MCN) Conference, The Association of Professional Schools of International Affairs (APSIA) Forum, and the Public Policy and International Affairs (PPIA) EXPO, among many other events. These sponsorships give us the opportunity to participate in recruitment opportunities, allows us to include Humphrey materials in participants' welcome packages, and allows us to do targeted follow up with participants.
- We hold monthly Information Sessions at the Humphrey School and virtually for those interested in coming to campus. We hold these sessions over the lunch hour or in the evenings to accommodate prospective students who work full time.
- The admissions team regularly meets with students 1:1 in person, on the phone, or virtually. Our goal is to give the student all the information they need to make an informed decision about the Humphrey School as well as how to build a strong application.

OBJECTIVE II: Develop and nurture pathways for historically underrepresented students to gain access to the Humphrey School.

Strategy:

- Hosting the NextGen Summer Policy Academy to replace the Junior Summer Institute (JSI) program. The goal is to create a pipeline program for underrepresented students to learn about graduate school opportunities. This program is in partnership with The Volcker Alliance, University of Washington and UC-Berkeley.
- Strategic Outreach to Organizations that work with diverse undergraduate students (exs. McNair Scholars, MCAE, GSDO, MLK Program, Citizen's League Capitol Pathways Program) to build relationships with advisors and serve as a resource to students. Each summer, the Humphrey Admissions team meets with prospective students from the McNair program who are interested in Public Affairs.
 - Often this outreach involves leading an "Applying to Grad School 101" session in addition to offering 1-on-1 appointments to discuss the application process and graduate school more broadly

OBJECTIVE III: Use Humphrey Scholarship funding strategically to matriculate a diverse student body.

Strategy:

- Use Humphrey funding to ensure a diverse class that is reflective of the communities we serve by continuing to use Diversity of Views and Experiences (DOVE) as an evaluative factor for admission and merit aid selection. This aligns with broader University of Minnesota priorities
 - NOTE: We can no longer use race/ethnicity as an evaluative factor when determining if a student contributes to DOVE. This is new (as of January 2024) and we will follow OGC guidance accordingly.
- Tied with Objective IV below, work in partnership with Advancement to secure more scholarship funds for admitted students. We know that cost is often the top factor for why students do not enroll at the Humphrey School, so an increased scholarship budget will help us better yield highly-talented, diverse students
- Annually review Humphrey merit aid awarding process to incorporate best practices

OBJECTIVE IV: Work closely with other Humphrey offices (Marketing/Communications, faculty, Career and Student Success (CSS), Advancement and Alumni Relations) to more effectively recruit students

Strategy:

- Partnering with MarComm will enable us to continue building and promoting the Humphrey brand. Greater visibility, especially among historically underrepresented populations, should lead to larger numbers of applicants, admitted students and eventual enrollees
- Faculty members and the CSS team serve as outstanding resources for students while they're enrolled at the Humphrey School. We will continue to highlight the supports these partners provide students and ask that they continue to join us for admissions events throughout the recruitment cycle
- As noted above, our partnership with Advancement is critical to our ability to effectively recruit students (particularly, talented students from historically underrepresented populations). We will work to better partner with Advancement as they engage with donors and philanthropic organizations
- Lastly, one of our greatest strengths as a school is our alumni network. We will continue to work extensively with Humphrey graduates and the Office of Alumni Relations to highlight the value of a Humphrey education to prospective students. An emphasis will be placed on the success stories of alumni from historically underrepresented groups

OBJECTIVE V: Ensure a consistent, non-biased holistic admission review process

Strategy:

- Use best practices as prescribed by The University of Minnesota Graduate School. Admissions staff has been trained on best practices and eliminating implicit bias. The admissions staff also works with admissions committee members to ensure adherence best practices.
- Annually review our admissions process for unintentional barriers to access and make changes when appropriate
- Conduct an annual audit of admit and yield rates across various student population groups
- Continue working closely with OGC to ensure compliance with University policy and federal law in light of the 2023 SCOTUS ruling

RETENTION: STUDENTS

GOAL: Create shared responsibility for retention efforts of students regarding the improvement and resources and support for students from the time they begin their coursework at the Humphrey School through the time of degree conferral.

OBJECTIVE I: Create and foster opportunities for community building among and between students from marginalized backgrounds and identities and their allies.

Strategy:

- Support identify-based student groups related to equity and inclusion efforts: Gender, Sexuality, and Policy Events Committee (GSPEC); Humphrey Students of Color Association (HSOCA); Humphrey International Student Association (HISA); and a sub-committee of the Public Affairs Student Association (PASA)
- Link supplemental funds for Humphrey student groups to equity and inclusion programming
- Work with advancement to pursue additional resources to support student professional development
- Sponsor opportunities for students from a variety of backgrounds to socialize and discuss substantive equity and inclusion issues
- Partner with academic advisors to better promote awareness of student organizations

OBJECTIVE II: Develop and nurture pathways for underrepresented students to excel at the Humphrey School.

Strategy:

- Provide annual reporting to the Office of Dean [HHSPA] for each degree with respect to retention of students enrolled in their programs.
- Consult with degree programs regarding the needs of marginalized students and any potential barriers in relation to persistence to degree completion.
- Initiate and facilitate the annual process of evaluating retention efforts, challenges, and actions for degree-specific programs.
- Shift our advising model to more proactive engagement through regular outreach including surveys, personalized emails, and initiating contact with students to enquire about their progress.
- Explore the creation of an Advising Week structure for mid-semester check-ins, specifically tailored to students in need or those who have come to attention for resource assistance, ensuring comprehensive support throughout their academic journey.

RESEARCH

GOAL: Increase the quantity and impact of research focused on issues of equity and inclusion to advance the public good.

OBJECTIVE I: Identify and cultivate research funding opportunities focused on equity and inclusion issues.

Strategy:

- Actively engage with internal and external research funders to increase research funding for equity and inclusion.
- Meet annually with UMN research centers (e.g., Center for Transportation Studies, Institute on the Environment, Institute for Advanced Study) to explore collaboration on supporting and seeking equity and inclusion-focused funding opportunities.
- Meet annually with key external research funders (e.g., foundations, state and local governments) to explore collaboration in supporting and seeking equity and inclusion-focused funding opportunities.

OBJECTIVE II: Highlight Humphrey School expertise in equity and inclusion issues to internal and external audiences and collaborators.

Strategy:

- Communicate about the impacts of equity and inclusion research and the unique expertise of Humphrey School researchers to examine equity and inclusion issues.
- Support Humphrey School researchers in developing op-eds on equity and inclusion issues.
- Use multiple communication channels to highlight Humphrey School research on equity and inclusion issues.
- Nominate Humphrey School researchers and projects for UMN and external awards that honor equity and inclusion-focused research.
- Explore funding opportunities to support an annual award to honor Humphrey School research and/or researchers each year.

OBJECTIVE III: Connect Humphrey School research and researchers within the University of Minnesota and externally to advance new collaborations to impact racism and white supremacy.

Strategy:

- Identify research centers, community organizations, and other partners working actively to put academic and community expertise into action to address racism and white supremacy.
- Mobilize Humphrey alums who are public, private, and nonprofit sector leaders to help build strategic coalitions and research partnerships.
- Identify and connect researchers across the University of Minnesota and peer policy and planning schools who are studying contemporary policy issues specifically related to concerns about racism and the rise of white supremacy (e.g., policies to address hate crimes, planning studies of public monuments and building names).
- Engage with peer policy and planning schools on Constructive Dialogue through the Volker Alliance and Constructive Dialogue Initiative

RECORD OF PROGRESS AND REVISION

April 2026

School Climate Area:

Progress: Temporary transition of faculty co-chair while Heather Randell was on leave. Community events were held such as the Fall Kickoff and end of year showcase.

Next Steps: Continue to host community events such as the fall kickoff, a wellness event/election destress event, an international student/fellow showcase, and an end of year showcase. Looking for ways to incorporate EIC members outside of membership meetings such as relying on them for outreach and suggesting presenters for events.

Communication Area:

Progress: Provided trainings to empower faculty that may not be as comfortable speaking in front of the media to share their voices. Audited the Humphrey School website to make sure that all new content is accessible and that old, non-accessible content was being transitioned or removed.

Next Steps: Work with the EIC to increase awareness such as integrating reports into the Herald, intranet, and newsletters. Support phase 2 of the Community Engagement Plan by disseminating research in accessible formats and highlighting reciprocal partnerships. Ensure all digital communications meet the April 2026 ADA Federal Digital Accessibility Deadline.

Curriculum Area:

Progress: A discretionary fund remained available for instructors to bring in DEI experts into their classes. The total amount of funds that were distributed last year was $3,850 to 18 practitioners.. Highlighted courses that center DEI on the website to help students find them.

Next Steps: All DEI related initiatives will continue with no plan to make any changes to mask equity and inclusion efforts. Instructors can opt out of the syllabus depository if they feel that including them could bring external scrutiny but the course content will not change. The discretionary fund will be available again for AY 2026-27. There were three new courses offered in Spring 2026 that focused on equity and inclusion related topics

Community Engagement Area:

Progress: The Community Engagement plan is three-phases over five years. The first phase was completed in FY25 and included building the framework of long-term reciprocal relationships, consulting with stakeholders and reviewing projects.

Next Step: Ensure institutional alignment with the University's Elevate Extraordinary 2030 plan. Begin Phase 2 of the Community Engagement plan including scaling initiatives, training, and embedding engagement in institutional systems. As well as examining and exploring new opportunities

Recruitment and Retention: Faculty and Staff

Progress: Hired 3 new faculty through the MURP and STEP searches using bridge funding for Faculty of Color; Recruited 3 senior fellows in STEP, Global Policy, and Leadership and Management; Recruited 2 new faculty in STEP and Social Policy; Enhanced faculty orientation and onboarding through mentoring kick-offs, onboarding emails, and new faculty orientation; Equity & Diversity Certificate Program integrated into faculty meetings and retreats (paused spring 2026); resumed Faculty Lunch Speaker Series under leadership of the ADF; held Constructive Dialogue training for faculty members; addressed student concerns regarding disability accommodations and conflict resolution.

Next Steps: Integrate professional development sessions into faculty meetings and retreats (Know Your Rights, Faculty-Student Conflict, and others); Hold 3 or more faculty speaker series events; Include EIC updates in monthly faculty newsletter; Share 2025 Engagement Survey results with faculty and staff and develop action plans; Assess and align our workforce to ensure equity, efficiency, and organizational effectiveness; Continue to recognize faculty and staff through awards.

Next Steps: Expand advising week; Continue to refine and tweak essential series topics; Expansion of orientation for MURP program; Encourage student groups to be more intentional about EIC in event planning; Integrate undergraduate students into graduate experience (150-200 undergrads enroll in Humphrey classes each semester); Educate academic advisors on affinity-based student groups; Promote Professional Development Fund for event/conference support.

Research

Progress: 4-year commitment of the Constellation Fund to support dissertation research; 40th Anniversary for the Center for Women, Gender, and Public Policy; Ryan Allen awarded SPARK grant for Migration Studies Center in NYC; Ryan Allen's students published 6 Op-Eds in outlets including MinnPost, ShelterForce, and the Star Tribune; Joe Soss co-authored book on predatory dimensions of criminal justice; Fayola Jacobs awarded a Social Justice Impact Grant for Disaster Preparedness in N. Minneapolis; Engaged in Constructive Dialogue Program that was rolled out across the UMN system; Angie Fertig co-leads an NIH-funded study on health outcomes and race.

Next Steps: Continue to expand the Constructive Dialogue series as it was named in the HHH Strategic Plan; Continue to explore funding opportunities given the current sponsored research funding challenges, for example through foundations or other smaller funding opportunities; May need to adjust research expectations in this existing environment to account for fewer opportunities and more competition.

April 2025

School Climate Area:
