- See Amon Varrick and Solari

- At age 43, while on a trip with her family in Skyrim to visit Aunt and Uncle, family is attacked by Worm cult. Both Tristane and Elia are killed by the worm cult.

IV. Sorex Galtus

i. Age 49

ii. Nord

- Born north of Falkreath. Family moved to Markarth shortly after birth. Sorex was always a hot headed child, getting in many fights with the other kids. But he was never cruel, seeing it as a way to improve himself and protect those who needed it.
- As Sorex grew up, he showed true skill in many forms of combat, Favoring the sword and shield over any other.
- Sorex traveled as a mercenary for 20 years, taking the odd job he could find, as well as finding work with the Fighter's Guild. His work led him to Riften when he was 34. While exploring the city, Sorex bumped into a young girl named Elara Thyme. He blurted something stupid out that he can't remember but surprisingly, it came off as charming. Sorex and Elara fell for each other and, after her assignment, Elara stayed with Sorex and continued to travel with him.
 - See Elara Thyme
- Sorex and Elara got married a year after their meeting. After traveling for 4 more years. They settled down in Riften. Sorex joined the Riften branch of the fighter's guild and Elara spent her days studying and tending to her garden.
- While meeting travelling family at the border of Skyrim, family is attacked by Worm cult. Ashcroft parents are killed. Edwore, Elona, Elara and Sorex are taken by the cult. Sent to Coldharbor
- Elona, Edwore and Sorex escape Coldharbor together with the help of the Prophet. During their escape, they meet a girl named Evelynna Aric, a mage who was also sent to Coldharbor by The Worm Cult. Elara is split from the group. Presumed dead

- After escaping Coldharbor, Edwore, Elona and Evelynna travel from the island of Stros M'kai, Through Glenumbra and back to their Family home in Stormhaven, where they meet with one of their late father's employees and family friends, Amon Varrick and Solari.

- See Evelynna Aric and Solari

V. Elara Thyme

i. Age 41

ii. Breton

- Elara Thyme was the younger sister to Elia Thyme. Both grew up in Wayrest. From a very young age, Elara had a brilliant mind and a need to understand more about the world around her. Elara was fascinated by nature and other natural wonders of the world. She would sneak out of the house late at night in search of adventure in the outskirts of the city. Often she snuck into the mages guild to read their texts. She was only caught a couple of times. But that never stopped her.

- See Elia Thyme and Tristane Ashcroft

- As she grew up, she found a interest in the nature of the Elder Scrolls. She studied them as much as she could, using every text she could find but it was never enough for her. When she was 22, she travelled to Cyrodiil to join the moth priests.
- She enjoyed life as a moth priest for many years. She honed her craft as a mage during this time. In addition to her studies in the White Gold Tower, she spent much of her time traveling the areas surrounding the Imperial City. Meeting many new faces and, sometimes, getting herself into trouble like when she was a child.
- She took on assignments to track down more Elder Scrolls when she was 29. One such assignment brought her to the Rift. She was to meet her guide there to help her search for the scroll. While waiting around town taking in the scene, she bumped into a scraggly looking Nord names Sorex Galtus. It was love at first sight. After her assignment was finished she remained in Skyrim to stay with Sorex, sending the scroll back with the rest of the party, along with her resignation.

- See Sorex Galtus

- Sorex and Elara enjoyed many adventures together across Skyrim, Sorex taking on the odd job, and Elara patching him up. Eventually the Moth and the Bear settled down in the very town they met in. Riften.
- Her time as a moth priest began to take its toll when she was 34. Slowly but steadily she lost her sight, becoming fully blind at age 35. This did not bother Elara too much. Her connection with nature allowed her to continue to live her life without her sight.

- While meeting travelling family at the border of Skyrim, Elara, Sorex and the Ashcrofts are attacked by Worm cult. Ashcroft parents are killed. Edwore, Elona, Elara and Sorex are taken by the cult. Sent to Coldharbor
- Elona, Edwore and Sorex escape Coldharbor together with the help of the Prophet. During their escape, they meet a girl named Evelynna Aric, a mage who was also sent to Coldharbor by The Worm Cult. Elara is split from the group. Presumed dead
 - See Evelynna Aric
- Elara managed to evade the daedra that pursued her after the escape. Elara's connection to the world around her was severed making it hard to navigate her surroundings. She travelled Cold Harbor for what felt like days until finally passing from dehydration.
- Elara awakens in an imperial temple in new clothes and feeling surprisingly better. The temple is empty so she gets up and starts to look for her savior. She is met by the Groundskeeper who explains to her how she was found and taken back to the Hollow City. Elara begged the Groundskeeper to show her the way back to Tamriel, but she simply stated: What you seek will find you here.
- Elara remained in Cold Harbor, awaiting her fate to find her...

VI. Vivienne Greenwing

- i. Age 26
- ii. Breton

- Born south of Northpoint in the small town of Fell's run. Her mother died in childbirth so she was raised by her father. Her father started working with Tristane Ashcroft when she was 12, when she meet the other Ashcroft kids. Vivienne and Elona became close friends as she and Edwore began a growing attraction towards each other. They continue to write letters to each other to this day.
 - See Edwore and Elona Ashcroft
- Vivienne learned different forms of magic from her old mentor in the Fell's run branch of the mages guild, Gerrick Souril. He taught her for 5 years until he decided it was time for him to seek other activities. She was 17 at the time. After Gerrick's departure, she continued her studies of magic and excelled at nature magic specifically. However she never truly understood why Gerrick left her.
 - See Gerrick Souril
- Vivienne's father passed away of a rare, incurable affliction when she was 19. This prompted her, along with her long time friend Elona to join the Order of Saint Pelin as healers. Both moved down to the city of Evermore.

- She remained there until she was 21 when she and Elona had a run in with a group of orcish bandits. Vivienne's group leader, Commander Godric, gave his life to save his party. He fell at the hand of Tharag Chiefsbane. After this event she decided to go travel the world and Elona returned to the Mages Guild in Wayrest.
 - See Tharag Chiefsbane
- She travelled to many different parts of Tamriel. Her first adventure found her in Craglorn while she travelled to Morrowind. Vivienne found herself working with the Stargazers to find the lost celestials.
- Vivienne helped the Celestial Thief uncover the deceit of the Serpent and his clan. Along with a small gathering of able fighters, Vivienne travelled into the Aetherian Archive and defeated the controlled Celestial Mage, freeing her from the Serpent's control. She was named The Mage Slayer.
- After her adventure, Vivienne left Craglorn to continue her path to Morrowind. At age 23, she got on a boat in Northern Skyrim and set off for Vvardenfell. Vivienne's ship was attacked by slavers off the coast of the island...

VII. Galos Firebrand

- i. Age 28
- ii. Dark Elf
 - Born in Vvardenfell, just outside of Vivec City, Galos Fireborn lived with his father who worked under a Telvanni Mage. Galos's mother died at a very young age. Galos grew up seeing his father's work with grand magical spell and reading of the ancient technology of the Dwemer. In his early teens Galos began exploring the depths of Vvardenfell in search of knowledge.
 - While travelling Vvardenfell, Galos met a young woman named Mirri Remoran, a member of an Ashlander tribe. It was frowned upon to interact with ashlanders, but Mirri and Galos took a liking to one another. They travelled with each other briefly until Galos's Father passed away.
 - When Galos was 19 his father pass away. This took a large toll of Galos, who in a fit of rage, went out to find his father's former employer, the Telvanni Mage. When he found the mage he was overcome with anger for the mage not helping his father more. He tried to engage the mage in combat but was sorely outmatched. The mage marked his face with a harsh burn and told him to never overestimate his abilities again. It was at this time that Galos took on the name Firebrand as a reminder of his experience.

- At age 20, Galos joined the Mages guild and began traveling around Tamriel from one guild house to another. While in Wayrest he met and befriended Elona Ashcroft, a young mage who had just moved to Wayrest.
 - See Elona Ashcroft
- At age 26 while in Mournhold, Galos was approached by Divayth Fyr about an opportunity of a lifetime...

VIII. Gerrick Souril

i. Age 155

ii. High Elf

- Not much is known about Gerrick's early life. Gerrick joined the mages guild at age 121 in Auridon. He was sent to a small town in Rivenspire to research nearby Ayleid Ruins when he was 144.
- In Rivenspire he met his Pupil, Vivienne Greenwing. He taught her different forms of Magic while he was not working in the ruins around Fell's run.
 - See Vivienne Greenwing
- After 5 years in Fell's run, Gerrick had a run in with a powerful Master Vampire who had taken residence in a ruin. Gerrick was infected. Knowing that vampirism could take a turn at any moment he quickly cut any ties with those he knew in the guild and out of. Including Vivienne.
 - See Vivienne Greenwing
- After a few months of wandering Rivenspire and the surrounding areas, Gerrick travelled into the daedric plane of Coldharbor to further his magical abilities and learn from the Daedra. However his time in Coldharbor had unforeseen effects on him mentally. His mental state deteriorated slowly until he could scarcely remember his previous life. During the beginning of the plane meld, Gerrick returned to Tamriel, a shell of the man he used to be.
- Gerrick's wandering led him to Northern Orcinium where he found a strange Oblivion Gate in an ancient ruin. Gerrick entered the portal which transported him to a strange dimension of sand and darkness.
- Gerrick travelled towards a small settlement in the desert where he met a strange daedric lord, who challenged him to his arena.
- Gerrick survived all of the tasks of the daedra and faced the final opponent of the arena. When he stood victorious, the daedric lord came to him and told him to stay and fight. Gerrick saw this as his opportunity to find someone to end his nightmare...

IX. Zalan Sendu and Azara Kati

- i. Age 59 and 36
- ii. Redguard
 - Meeting story?
 - Cyrus Sendu and Rona Kati born shortly after Azara turned 31.
 - At age 37 and 36, family is captured by Bandits outside of Taneth. His mother Azara is killed after the 2nd day of imprisonment. Zalan manages to free Cyrus and tells him to run. The leader of the Bandits is furious that one of their prisoners has escaped. The bandits take Zalan far from the camp and put a dagger in his side, leaving him to die.
 - Zalan awoke in the city of Bergama, being tended to by a 36 year old priest of Stendarr named Lexi Coppersmith. She took care of him for two weeks and showed him some simple healing spells to take care of himself further. Once he was on his feet again, they set off to travel together, in search of more people to help near Cyrodiil. He as her bodyguard.
 - Zalan continued to learn more and more about magic from Carolyna over the years they spend traveling Cyrodiil together.
 - One fateful day while in the town of Vlastarus, an company of Aldmeri Soldiers raided the small town, which was being held by the Daggerfall Covenant. The elven forces slaughtered the soldiers and many of the townsfolk, Zalan and Carolyna attempted to protect the town and its people, but in the end, Carolyna was captured by the Aldmeri Commander, Kalatar Aedia who has been sent to take the town. Zalan barely escaped with his life and Carolyna's necklace which he still carries to this day.
 - Zalan still travels around Tamriel looking to help those in need, and atone for lives he failed to save.

- The night comes. Rona and Zafira sneak into the palace of the king and make their way to the basement where the artifact is said to be held. When they arrive in the basement they are surrounded by guards. A trap.
- Zafira holds back the guards to help Rona escape. Zafira is taken prisoner by the guards.

- Rona makes it back to the outlaw refuge. As she is packing her things to escape, she overhears a young high elf woman talking of a new score out near Windhelm. Rona knows she needs to leave Sentinel and sees this as a way out. She approaches Quen to find out about this new heist...

XVI. Casara Aedia

- i. Age 23
- ii. Altmer
 - Born to Kalatar Aedia and Psyline
 - Casara's early childhood was very comfortable, living in a large house in the city of Alinor (Province of Summerset).
 - Her father spent much of his time away from home working as a ranking member of the Divine Persecution. Casara was raised mainly by her Mother Psyline alongside her younger brother Cyrion
 - See Kalater Aedia, Psyline, Cyrion Aedia
 - As Casara grew up, she had a deep fascination with the world
 - When Casara was in her mid teenage years, her mother grew ill and eventually passed away.
 - After her mother's passing Casara's relationship with her father was strained. Being the eldest child, most of her late-mother's responsibilities fell to Casara, straining her relationship with her family even more.
 - Casara wanted to see the world that was blocked off from her by the governing bodies of Summerset. She began to search for adventures on the island itself.
 - While exploring outside of Shimmerine, Casara runs into a young Breton mage named Elona Ashcroft, who seems to have a lot on her mind...
