IMMERSIVE MEDIA DESIGN (IMD)
Immersive Media + Arts for All Showcase

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

The University of Maryland's Immersive Media Design (IMD) program in partnership with the campus-wide Arts for All Initiative and the Department of Art is seeking submissions of digital and immersive media art to present as part of IMD's "Immersive Media & Arts for All Spring Showcase," a week-long public event running from April 2nd to April 8th, 2022. The showcase will present interactive immersive media projects that can be experienced by audiences in IMD's lab space(s) and Department of Art atrium as well as a digital work that will be projected and presented outdoors.

We welcome proposals from all artistic areas (visual, performance, creative writing, and beyond) that cross traditional medium and disciplinary boundaries, and we are particularly interested in projects that actively explore the central themes of the Arts for All Initiative by promoting social justice, fostering civic dialogue, and sparking community engagement.

Examples of proposals for indoor submissions include augmented or virtual reality experiences, small scale music, theater, or dance performances that incorporate interactive and digital media, interactive projection installations, installation art, or any combination of the above.

Proposals for outdoor projection display may include any projectabile medium (ie. video, digital art and animation, etc.)

Accepted projects should be completed and ready for presentation no later than March 30th, 2022.

All UMD students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to submit proposals. Submissions will be reviewed on a rolling basis beginning Wednesday, January 26th, 2022 through Wednesday, February 16th, 2022. *Space is limited so applicants are encouraged to submit their proposals as early as possible.

SUBMIT HERE.

Questions? Please contact Jonathan David Martin, IMD Lecturer and Events Manager: martinjd@umd.edu