Terms of Service

1. Keep requests appropriate.

I will not make art depicting racist, sexist, queerphobic, pornographic or otherwise hateful/inappropriate topics.

2. I reserve the right to refuse/cancel an order at any time.

If you disrespect me or violate my boundaries, I can and will cancel your commission. In the event that your commission is cancelled, you will be either partially or completely refunded. View payment policy

3. All artwork is watermarked until I receive the full payment.

This rule is in place to prevent theft. If you wish to receive unwatermarked WIPs, you must pay 100% upfront. View payment policy

4. I have the right to publish any commissioned artwork.

I publish all commissioned artwork I make for the purpose of building my portfolio. Please communicate if you would like to remain anonymous or do not wish for me to post it.

5. Please be prepared when contacting me.

When commissioning me, I ask that you come prepared with references, details about your order, and a deadline. If you do not have a specific vision or have a tight deadline, the price may increase. View payment policy

6. Please be patient and understanding.

Asking for regular updates is fine! It holds me accountable for completing your order in a timely fashion. However, I will not tolerate being impatient and ignorant of my personal obligations. If there are any delays, I will let you know as soon as possible.

7. Please remember to credit me.

You may use the finished product in anything you'd like (including commercial projects), but please remember to credit me. Do not resell it, claim it as yours, or feed it to generative AI.

Payment Policy

1. You may request a refund at any time.

I will issue a refund based on the amount of work not completed. You will never receive a complete refund if I have already started on the commission.

2. You must pay 50% upfront.

To protect myself from scammers, I require at least 50% of the total price to be paid upfront. If you choose to do only half upfront, you will only receive watermarked WIPs, and you will not be given completed work until it is paid in full.

3. Payment Methods

I have several ways of accepting payments:

- Ko-Fi

- Unfortunately, I do not accept PayPal. You must pay with a normal credit/debit card.
- Stripe
  - Instead of going through Ko-Fi, you also have the option to pay directly through Stripe! As previously mentioned, I do not support PayPal, so you must use a normal credit/debit card.
- ACH & Wire Transfer
  - I will send an invoice to you via e-mail. I will start work on your commission once I receive the payment from your end.
- Robux
  - This option is only recommended for Roblox developers who make Robux directly from their projects. As a normal player, it is extremely expensive to buy the appropriate amount of Robux to match DevEx rates.
  - Robux payments should be in currency only via group payouts. I do not accept limiteds, in-game compensation, etc.

4. Revisions

There are two types of acceptable revisions:

- Minor Revisions
  - Free and unlimited
  - If these revisions become too excessive, I will charge a small fee.
    - This does not include mistakes resulting from my own negligence
- Major Revisions
  - Major revisions are limited in number and will cost extra, depending on the request.

5. Additional Fees

Depending on your order, there may be added fees for:

- Tight deadlines
- No specific vision, references, or details
- Requests for additional assets (for rendering & animation only)

This information will be communicated during the commission process, so don't worry about getting any surprise fees.
