TMS Parent Message - October 31, 2021

Crusader Nation,

I hope that you're having a safe and happy Halloween weekend! Please be reminded that there is no school for students tomorrow, Monday, November 1st. Teachers will be working from 12:00-7:30PM tomorrow to accommodate parents' schedules for Parent-Teacher Conferences. If you didn't have a chance to schedule a meeting with your child's teacher(s) tomorrow, you can still get something scheduled for the second day of conferences, which is Friday, November 12th from 8:00-3:00. Please use this link.

During parent-teacher conferences we will have resources and staff members available to assist you with any Canvas or Skyward-related questions or issues. You are also invited to attend our Parent Advisory Council Meeting, which is scheduled for tomorrow at 6PM in the TMS Library. Feel free to join us to learn more about TMS and provide your parental input regarding strengths and areas for potential improvement. Your support and suggestions are valued and appreciated at Triad Middle School.

This past week we had a great time celebrating Red Ribbon Week with the various dress up and spirit days. We concluded our spirit week with a pep assembly in the large gymnasium with all 7th and 8th grade students. During the assembly we recognized and congratulated the following teams and groups: football, cross country, 7th and 8th grade softball, 7th and 8th grade baseball, ILMEA band participants, and ILMEA chorus participants! We also introduced and extended our best wishes to our cheer, dance, and boys and girls basketball teams who are gearing up for the winter season. Finally, I think that staff and students enjoyed the 7th and 8th grade mummification process, as we witnessed pairs of students turning 7th and 8th grade teachers into toilet paper mummies! Check out these pictures from the week!
