

Messrs.
Editorial Board
Pensar en Movimiento Journal

The undersigned person(s) _____(write the name of the author(s)), in his/her (their) capacity as the author(s) of the article:

(write the title of the article)

(write the short¹ title of the article)

being subject to evaluation by the aforementioned Journal, UNDER OATH DECLARE(S) that²:

1. The article is original and has not been published: that is, it constitutes the intellectual production of the person(s) indicated above and has not been published in printed or digital form with the support from an entity with an editorial committee (preprint in personal or institutional repositories is allowed).
2. The article has not been simultaneously submitted for publication in another printed or electronic journal or any other written media or editorial body.
3. The author(s) has(have) not subscribed, with third parties, any contracts of transfer of proprietary rights or use licenses regarding intellectual property rights for the submitted article that prevents them to license the Journal.
4. In case of collective authorship— whether works in which the authors have the same degree of involvement or those in which there is a lead author and one or more secondary authors— all authors have contributed intellectually to the paper.
5. In case of collective authorship (as specified in the previous item), in relation to the recognition of participation levels assigned by the authors, they release PENSAR EN MOVIMIENTO from any liabilities.
6. In case of collective authorship, all authors have read and approved the submitted manuscript. With this understanding, the authors hereby appoint:

¹ The short title helps to identify the document in any of its parts, and must be made up of 2 to 5 words

² Our recommendation is that the letter be filled out in the author's native language. In the case of co-authored documents, the native language of the author in the correspondence will be chosen.

(write the name of the corresponding author)

as the author in charge of receiving correspondence and having sufficient authority to represent the other authors, in his/her capacity as the authorized agent.

7. The author(s) recognize(s) that the Journal does not necessarily endorse the statements expressed in the article.
8. The author(s) state(s) that all text citations in the paper and their corresponding bibliographic references have been properly sourced and credited.
9. The author(s) include(s) in the paper the permits or authorization from those who own the rights for use of tables and figures (illustrations, photographs, drawings, maps, diagrams, or other).
10. In the event that the article submitted is accepted for publication, authorize Pensar en Movimiento to the following:
 - a. The first publication of the paper under a Licencia Creative Commons Atribución-NoComercial-CompartirIgual 4.0 Internacional.
 - b. Graphics editing and proofreading of the entire paper or part of it.
 - c. The publication and reproduction of the entire paper or part of it, both in printed and electronic formats, including Internet and any other technology now known or to be known.
 - d. The translation of the paper or part thereof into any language or dialect.
 - e. The adaptation of the article to reading, sound, and voice recognition formats and any other representation or technical device available, enabling partial or complete access for the blind or persons with any other form of disability that prevents them to access the conventional reading of the article.
 - f. The distribution and availability of the article to the public, so that the public may access it from the time and place chosen by the reader, through the physical or electronic devices at the person's disposal.
 - g. The possibility that readers download, store, copy, and distribute for free the final approved and published version of the article, provided it is done for no commercial purposes, no derivative papers are generated, and the article is properly sourced and credited.
 - h. Any other use, process or system known or to be known related to the editorial purposes and activities linked to the Journal.
11. At the same time, the author(s) accept(s) the authorization granted by Universidad de Costa Rica to use the final approved and published version of the article and to publish it on the Internet or any website provided it is not for commercial purposes. The author(s) agree(s) that the submitted paper be adjusted, with their collaboration, by the Journal editing team to the format stipulated in the "Instructions to Authors" previously established and published in the Journal's official website

(<https://revistas.ucr.ac.cr/index.php/pem/information/authors>); in terms of procedures, formatting, proofreading, editing, translation, publication, duration of the editorial process and other requirements called for in those instructions.

12. The author(s) agree(s) to give the Journal a contact e-mail and personal data necessary to identify the author(s) of the article.
13. The author(s) accept(s) that the application and possible publication of the article in PENSAR EN MOVIMIENTO is governed by the editorial policies of the Journal, the institutional rules of Universidad de Costa Rica and the laws of the Republic of Costa Rica. In addition, in case of any possible difference of opinion or future dispute, it shall be settled in accordance with the mechanisms of Alternative Dispute Resolution and the Costa Rican jurisdiction.
14. The author(s) declare(s) that they do not have any conflicts of interest in those activities that may introduce bias into the paper results.
15. The author(s) declare that they used artificial intelligence tools to improve their paper. Please describe the tool(s) used and how the author(s) used artificial intelligence to improve their manuscript. If the author(s) did not use artificial intelligence, please write "Not apply" in this space. See our policy here.

16. The author(s) ___agree(s)/ ___do(does) not agree (mark your option with an X) to publish the paper as a just-in manuscript. Just-in manuscripts are PDF versions of the articles prepared by the authors, already accepted by the Journal for publication, but prior to the final editing and layout. In this way, author(s) can speed up dissemination four to six weeks. For more information, please check the following link: <https://revistas.ucr.ac.cr/index.php/pem/information/authors>
17. The author(s) ___agree(s)/ ___do(does) not agree (mark your option with an X) with the publication of the database associated with this manuscript, together with the publication of my(our) manuscript. The database should only include the data directly related with my(our) manuscript, but if I(we) choose to include additional data I(we) will do so voluntarily; the file must be uploaded to the journal's website together with the manuscript and this letter. The publication of research data follows open science policies. These practices are implemented by the best journals, which ensure that these data have the protections necessary to avoid ethical and authorship conflicts, in order to offer greater transparency and clarity in the processes of scientific publishing. You are invited to become acquainted with our initiative in this editorial:

<https://doi.org/10.15517/pensarmov.v21i1.53446>. Authors must send the database only if the manuscript is accepted for publication, at this point, editor will contact the authors to request the dataset.

18. The author(s) ___ agree(s)/ ___ do(does) not agree (mark your option with an X) to submit the article to an open review. In this type of review, both the authors and the reviewers know the identity of their counterparts. Among other things, an open review contributes to a more fluid dialogue between authors and reviewers, the process of article publication is more transparent, and reviewers are recognized for their work.
