

Join Us

Teach. Inspire. Grow.

At Band For Life, we believe great music education begins with great educators.

We're always looking to collaborate with passionate, dependable, and student-focused instructors who are committed to making a meaningful impact through music. Whether you're an experienced conductor, sectional instructor, or specialist educator, we welcome individuals who share our commitment to excellence, professionalism, and lifelong learning.

Together, we help schools build thriving music programmes that inspire students both on and off the stage.

Why Collaborate With Us?

Meaningful Teaching Opportunities

Work with schools that value quality music education and make a lasting difference in students' musical journeys.

Professional Support

We handle programme coordination and communication with schools so you can focus on what you do best—teaching.

Flexible Engagement

We offer opportunities across various schools, programmes, and ensemble types, allowing you to take on engagements that suit your expertise and availability.

Collaborative Culture

You'll be part of a supportive network of experienced music educators who value teamwork, continuous improvement, and mutual respect.

Who We're Looking For

We welcome instructors with experience in:

- Brass Band
- Concert Band
- Wind Ensemble
- Strings
- Percussion
- Classroom Music
- Music Theory
- Conducting
- Ensemble Coaching

We particularly value educators who demonstrate:

- A passion for developing young musicians.
- Strong communication and interpersonal skills.
- Reliability and professionalism.
- Confidence in managing groups of students.
- Initiative and a willingness to collaborate.
- A commitment to continuous learning and growth.

Professional qualifications and relevant teaching experience are advantageous, though we also welcome talented educators who possess strong musical expertise and a genuine passion for teaching.

What We Value

Our instructors are more than musicians—they are mentors, role models, and educators.

We believe the most successful programmes are built by instructors who:

- Inspire confidence.
 - Foster discipline through encouragement.
 - Build positive relationships with students.
 - Create engaging and inclusive learning environments.
 - Work collaboratively with schools and fellow instructors.
 - Lead with integrity, professionalism, and respect.
-

Opportunities Available

Depending on school needs and your area of expertise, opportunities may include:

- Brass Instructor
 - Woodwind Instructor
 - Percussion Instructor
 - Ensemble Conductor
 - Sectional Coach
 - Music Programme Consultant
 - Short-Term Relief Instructor
 - Workshop Facilitator
-

Our Recruitment Process

1. Submit your application.
 2. We'll review your qualifications and experience.
 3. Suitable applicants may be invited for a conversation or teaching demonstration.
 4. Successful candidates will be matched with suitable school programmes as opportunities become available.
-

Ready to Make an Impact?

If you're passionate about inspiring the next generation of musicians, we'd love to hear from you.

Please send us:

- Your résumé or CV
- A brief introduction about yourself
- Your teaching experience
- Instruments or areas of specialisation
- Your general availability
- Any relevant certifications or qualifications

Let's build exceptional music programmes together—one student, one ensemble, and one performance at a time.